Viaduct-Bridge Job To Start Next Week

Preliminary work on the Washington Avenue Viaduct-Esopus Creek Bridge project is due to start next week, a spokesman for John Arborio Inc. contractor, said today.

Major phases of the project, also known as the Washington Avenue-Route 28 Arterial, includes constructon of a new bridge over the Esopus, rebuilding of sections of Washington Avenue and Route 28, and razing of the nearly half-century old viaduct.

Harold Barnum, project superintendent, said preliminary work will include the placing of signs and establishment of base lines.

Scheduled for completion by Oct. 1, 1964, the project will be under supervision of M. Nicholas Sinacori, district engineer in charge of the state public works department's district office at Poughkeepsie.

To Cost $729,255

The contract was awarded recently to Arborio, who bid low at $729,255.50. The contractor is also due to resume work, as soon as weather permits on the Route 209 by-pass project west of the city.

The state estimated cost of the bridge-viaduct project was $848,000.

An expected curtailment of state funds for public works projects will not affect the viaduct-bridge project, an engineer said today.

Bids for the project were received in Albany last Dec. 13 and Arborio was awarded the contract late in January.

Collapsed Aug. 28

A new three-span composite I-beam bridge 276.6 feet long will be built over the Esopus Creek west of the Bailey bridge which was moved here from Prattsville after collapse last Aug. 28 of a span built in 1924. The new span will have two 24-foot lanes with a four-foot, flush mall.

The new road also of two 24-foot lanes will be built from the Route 28 traffic circle at Thruway Exit 19, Town of Ulster for .52 of a mile to North Front Street in the city. Most of the alignment will be west of present alignment.

Frame houses in the project area on the west side of Washington Avenue will be razed. Brick structures on the opposite side will remain. Traffic is due to be maintained over the viaduct and bailey bridge throughout most, if not all, of the construction period.

Opened in 1914

Properties on the Route 28 side of the project are to be affected, including The Barn, a restaurant and bar operated for many years by Bob Teetsel, of 34 Wall Street.

The city, under several mayors, for the better part of two decades has sought elimination of the viaduct and replacement of the narrow bridge at its western end. The viaduct, built to overpass two railroads, was opened to traffic in 1914. The Public Service Commission, early in 1960 issued the required order to re-establish a crossing of the one existing railroad at grade over Washington Avenue. The railroad now operates only a few trains a week.

Probing Decline Of Competition Among Papers

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Antitrust subcommittee, eyeing the decline of "toe-to-toe" newspaper competition in U.S. cities, begins a month of hearings today aimed at finding out the cause.

More than 40 witnesses, representing the government, publishers, editors, business managers, advertising executives and unions will be called during the inquiry, the most intensive study of news media congress has ever undertaken.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., subcommittee chairman, ordered the inquiry more than a year ago after two papers in Los Angeles folded. Its scope has since expanded to take in radio and television as well.

Car Repairs Would Void Summonses

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—By making prompt repairs, motorists could avoid punishment for having defective equipment on their vehicles, under legislation now before the Senate.

The bill received unanimous approval of the Assembly Tuesday. The Senate also is expected to pass it.

Another measure passed by the Assembly and sent to the Senate would require that new vehicles be equipped with a device to flash front and rear lights simultaneously to indicate the vehicles were disabled. The bill would affect vehicles sold in the state after June 30, 1965.

The vote was 130-13. There was no debate.

Under the first bill, a summons for defective equipment would be vacated automatically if the vehicle owner could show that repairs had been made within 72 hours after he received the ticket.

The Assembly also approved a bill that would make legal the billboards that now stand within 660 feet of the superhighway.

In action Tuesday on other legislation:

Consumer Protection — Gov. Rockefeller signed a bill under which claims of customers who make payments on "lay-away" purchases from retailers who then go bankrupt will rank second after employes' claims for wages in the distribution of remaining assets.

Charities—Rockefeller signed a bill under which the attorney general is empowered to seek court injunctions to bar mail solicitations of contributions by organizations that use less than half of the money raised for the avowed charitable purpose of the group.

Judicial Pay — The governor signed bills raising from $5,000 a year to $10,000 the salaries of the county and family court judges in Fulton County and raising from $9,000 a year to $11,000 the salary of the Greene County judge.

Infants — The Assembly passed and sent to the Senate a bill that would require doctors to test newborn babies for phenylketonuria, a chemical imbalance in the system that causes mental retardation if it is not corrected promptly.

Drivers' Licenses—The Assembly passed and sent to the Senate a measure to authorize issuance of limited operators' licenses to motorists who have lost their permits because of traffic violations but who need a license for their work. Rockefeller has vetoed similar legislation in each of the past two years.

Dictation Not Given, Says Korth

Thought Dynamic TFX Model Better

EDITORS NOTE—A Senate investigation into the awarding of a potential $6.5-billion contract for the TFX Navy-Air Force fighter plane has been making headlines for days. In this exclusive interview, Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth tells why he made his recommendations on the contract.

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth said today he recommended the General Dynamics Corp. version of the TFX fighter plane without any dictation from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara or any political or industrial influence.

Korth told The Associated Press he decided against the rival Boeing Co. proposal for an advanced all-purpose Navy-Air Force fighter because that proposal fell short on two basic points, one of them realistic cost estimates.

"It was not dictated," Korth said in an interview. "It was a decision that Secretary of the Air Force Eugene Zuckert and I made jointly and independently and then made our recommendation to McNamara."

Had No Leaning

The Navy chief said McNamara had indicated no leanings to him before he took the matter under consideration.

"None whatsoever," the Texan replied when asked whether—as had been suggested in a Senate investigation — political considerations tilted the award of the potential $6.5-billion project to General Dynamics.

Korth was the first of the top Pentagon leaders to discuss publicly the background of the contract which now is under investigation by the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

The subcommittee has developed testimony that military evaluation boards were overruled four times before the award was given last summer to General Dynamics, of Fort Worth, Tex., with Grumman Aircraft Corp. as an associate.

Testimony also has indicated that the proposal by Boeing, a Seattle, Wash., firm, cost from $100 million to $415 million less than the General Dynamics version.

Reason for Rejections

Korth said the Navy rejected the first three proposals by both General Dynamics and Boeing because they called for too heavy and too big a plane, unsuited for carrier operations.

On the fourth go-around, Korth said, the Navy-Air Force evaluation board of experts recommended the Boeing model, although it held that both firms' revamped blueprints met the first requirement—that the new plane would result in a substantial increase in fighter capability.

Korth said he favored the General Dynamics version—and so recommended to McNamara—because he felt that model was better in two other related basic points, realistic cost and what is called "commonality."

General Dynamics and Boeing offered virtually identical planes, he said, but Dynamics combined its offering in a single model while Boeing proposed two similar planes, one for the Air Force and one for the Navy.

Economy Is Facing Disaster Without Tax Cut: Kennedy

NOW HEAR THIS!—Chairman John McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, holds the floor as he has a pre-hearing talk with Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester. At center is Sen. Edmund Muskie (D-Me.). Sylvester was called before the group to explain why he questioned fairness of their hearings on the disputed TFX fighter plane contract. (AP Wirephoto)

Cautions On Wrong Decisions

Slash of Budget, Tight Debt Lid Also His Concern

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy said today the economy will face "downturn and disaster" if Congress rejects proposed tax cuts, slashes the budget and puts a tight lid on the national debt.

In a significant attempt to broaden current debate over economic policy, Kennedy argued that tax cuts alone cannot insure the success of his ideas for juicing up the economy. He said it also is important to avoid "an unrealistic debt ceiling or budget cut."

Hits Earlier Errors

Wrong decisions in these three policy areas would, he said, "spell downturn and disaster for the American economy as a whole."

In remarks prepared for the annual Washington conference of the Advertising Council, Kennedy said wrong decisions on all three points were made in 1957-1960 by "a Republican administration and a Democratic Congress."

As a result, he contended, the nation has been paying a high price ever since by slogging along with a below-par economy.

"I am hopeful," Kennedy said, "that the lessons of history will be remembered by us all—by those of us in the administration and the Congress, and those in this audience who are leaders of opinion in the business community."

The scope of Kennedy's argument, in what originally was expected to be a brief and rather routine appearance, seemed a measure of presidential concern over congressional criticism of the administration's record $98.8-billion budget and the request for a continuation of the record temporary debt ceiling of $308 billion. The White House is expected to ask a higher debt ceiling later.

Seeks Broader Support

By linking both these items with the attention-getting tax cut issue, the President seemed bent on seeking broader support for a more boldly stated plan of attack on the ills of the economy.

In essence, this was the argument, described as non-partisan, which Kennedy put forward:

—"The faults of the last five years" were attributed, in the President's words, to a bipartisan decision "in 1957 to keep the debt limit unrealistically low, to cut back and stretch out our budget expenditures, to tighten monetary policy and to reject all efforts at tax reduction." Kennedy contended the situation was aggravated in 1960 by further moves toward "tight money."

—"The harsh results" were described as a slowdown in contracts, a delay in federal payments to business, two costly recessions and bigger than-ever budget deficits.

To emphasize his argument, Kennedy offered this before-and-after picture of the economy:

Compares Economy

—In the decade prior to July 1957, the unemployment rate rarely exceeded 4 per cent. In the 64 months since then, it has remained above 5 per cent and now is 6.1 per cent.

—In the pre-1957 decade, business each year spent for expansion and modernization an amount nearly equal to 11 per cent of the value of total output. "It has since that time fallen steadily to roughly 9 per cent today," Kennedy said.

Plan to 'Borrow' $123 Million Is Heading for Final Approval

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller's plan to "borrow" 0123 million from future state income was headed for final legislative approval today as GOP leaders continued their struggle to win rank-and-file approval for a $30-million annual increase in liquor taxes and license fees.

The fiscal developments were part of the GOP leadership's plan to help Rockefeller close a gap between spending and anticipated revenues in his record budget of $2.89 billion for the fiscal year beginning April 1.

The Senate approved Tuesday and sent to the Assembly a Rockefeller-backed measure under which employers would turn over to the state in the 1963-64 fiscal year $115 million in personal income taxes withheld from employes' pay.

The money normally would not reach the state treasury until after the 1964-65 fiscal year had begun.

Collection dates of $8 million in corporate franchise taxes also would be advanced.

Democrats Fight Measures

Senate Democrats opposed the measures on the grounds they were "gimmicks" and amounted to "fiscal quackery." The vote was 33-25 on party lines.

But the real problem for Republican leaders remained the plan to raise liquor charges. Separate conferences of the Republican majorities of the Senate and Assembly were called today to act on compromise proposals designed to break a rebellion against any increases in state charges.

An end to the budget revolt would clear the way for final action on the budget next week. Leaders still held that adjournment by March 30 was possible, but this was questioned in view of the enormous backlog of unfinished business.

Other Matters

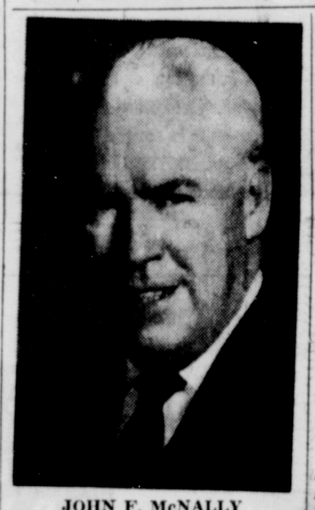
In other developments at the Capitol:

Education — The Diefendorf Committee on Public School Financing recommended at its final meeting that alternative plans for raising additional local taxes be authorized for school districts.

Drinking — The possibility New York would raise its minimum drinking age from 18 to 21 vanished with a decision by the Assembly Excise Committee to kill legislation calling for the increase.

Billboards — The Assembly rejected objections of the State Thruway Authority and passed, 115-26, a bill to legalize billboards now standing within 660 feet of the right of way of the superhighway.

Tuition — The Senate majority closed the last possible avenue to consideration this year of Democratic measures to prevent imposition of tuition in the State University and City University of New York. The GOP senators defeated a Democratic motion to bring anti-tuition bills to the floor.



JOHN F. McNALLY

Former Resident Of Area Receives Postal Promotion

Robert K. Christenberry, postmaster of New York City announces the appointment of John F. McNally as director of operations for the U. S. post office there, effective March 16.

McNally entered the postal service on August 16, 1920, as a career postal employe. He served continuously during the past 42 years holding various positions, the most recent of which was superintendent of Church Street Station.

He has been serving as the acting assistant postmaster since June of 1962.

McNally is formerly of the village of East Kingston, where he resided for 17 years. He is a brother of Mrs. John J. Henebery and Mrs. Charles Dasher of this city and Mrs. Thomas J. Dempsey of East Kingston.

Indications Are One New Virus Brought On Flu

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Discovery of two new strains of influenza virus—with all indications that one of them was largely responsible for this winter's widespread flu epidemics—was disclosed today.

The new strains were identified too late for this season's vaccine to include extra guards against them, it was learned.

One is a new and potent form of the Asian flu virus which first appeared in 1957. This new strain is the one held mainly responsible for this year's outbreak of flu—with the available vaccine having only limited power against it, Public Health Service doctors told a reporter.

No Vaccine Protection

Studies have indicated that in animals, the present vaccine affords no protection at all against the new virus, they said. Preliminary evidence from human studies is that this winter the vaccine showed "appreciably less" than its usual 75 per cent efficiency—presumably because of the new virus.

Influenza cases have been unusually severe this winter, often lasting up to two weeks instead of the usual three or four days. School absenteeism has ranged up to 73 per cent of pupils in some schools. Death rates from pneumonia, complicated by flu, have been unusually high among the elderly in some communities.

Other New Virus

The other newcomer to the elusive brigade of viruses is a new strain of type B influenza virus. Type B and type A are the two major types of flu virus. Each has several sub-strains.

So far, the new B-type strain appears to have been confined to a single schoolhouse in Formosa where it was first detected last November.

Scientists of the National Institutes of Health say it has the potential for spreading through the world next winter.

An example of this swift spreading is the new strain of Asian flu virus which NIH researchers said first appeared in Tokyo in January 1962.

Came Too Late

It wasn't until last June, when samples of the virus were obtained from abroad by NIH's Division of Biologic Standards, that first strong evidence was obtained that this was a new strain of Asian flu. It wasn't confirmed until November.

It was too late to include the new virus in the vaccine to be used in preparation for the winter of 1962-1963.

Millions of doses of vaccine had already been manufactured and distributed. It would have taken up to six months to tool up for inclusion of the new strain.

Also, scientists still couldn't be sure the new strain would hit the United States, although there was evidence it had cropped up in Formosa and New Zealand as well as Japan.

Time Running Out For K on Troops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

U.S. sources said today Soviet troops are leaving Cuba at a relatively slow pace with only two days to go for Premier Khrushchev to honor his pledge to President Kennedy that "several thousand" would depart by mid-March.

Says Fifth Leaving

In Moscow, the Communist party newspaper Pravda said four ships carrying troops had sailed and a fifth was loading.

It said the fourth, the 11,030-ton Black Sea cruise ship Gruzia (Georgia), left Sunday carrying specialists who had been training Cubas in "powerful, up-to-date Soviet military techniques."

The New York Times news service said in a Washington dispatch that the Gruzia carried 560 Soviet servicemen.

Pravda said the 15,000-ton Nakhimov, the former Berlin, taken over from Germany after World War II, was in Havana loading troops. It might take as many as 4,500.

This is the first time any such departure story has appeared in the Soviet press, indicating a new propaganda build-up.

Specialists' Job Over

Pravda's dispatch from Havana said that the jobs of the specialists who sailed Sunday were finished, and that Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government had agreed that the Soviet experts could go home.

U.S. experts in Washington estimated there were 17,500 Soviet military personnel in Cuba when the withdrawals began. This was 5,000 fewer than believed stationed there at the height of the Cuban crisis last October.

The Soviet liner Baltika, which brought Khrushchev to New York in 1960, sailed Feb. 21 with an unspecified number of soldiers and airmen aboard.

Havana dispatches said 2,000 sailed on a ship which reporters were forbidden to identify March 1. Washington was skeptical of the figure, but U.S. officials said it is difficult to count men aboard by aerial reconnaissance. This ship probably was the Kalinin, another cruise vessel.

President Kennedy told his news conference March 6 he was not satisfied with the withdrawal rate, but this apparently has been stepped up.

Rusk Notes Peril

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Tuesday the United States will continue to press for more troop withdrawals. He said a "complete report" will not be issued until after the middle of the month.

Rusk also told the National Advertising Council there are still "some highly dangerous elements in the Cuba situation today."

He listed them as:

1. The possibility the Soviets would send offensive weapons back to Cuba. This, he said, would bring on a new crisis far greater than last October's.
2. Any interference with the daily U.S. surveillance of Cuba.
3. Any Soviet military action against Cubans.
4. Any forays from Cuba against neighboring countries.

Assembly Group Kills Action on 21 Drinking Age

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Assembly's excise committee has killed any prospect that the Legislature might agree this year to raise New York's legal minimum drinking age from 18 to 21.

An informed source said the 16-member, Republican-ruled committee decided at a closed meeting Tuesday to spike two pending bills that proposed such an increase.

Assemblyman Hyman E. Mintz, R-Sullivan County, was to announce the action officially today.

The bills were sought avidly by neighboring states, which have been clamoring for a change for several years. They say their teen-agers get into accidents returning from expeditions to take advantage of New York's lower drinking age.

Their defeat in the Excise Committee was a narrow one. Nine votes were required to kill the bills, and opponents of the measures barely mustered them.

The vote was 9-5. Two of the 10 Republican members were absent because of illness.

The committee's action has the effect of halting further consideration of the issue at this session of the Legislature. By custom, the Assembly does not overrule decisions of its committees. The Senate would not be likely to take up a measure already dead in the Assembly.

Furthermore, it was understood that the committee's action had at least the tacit approval of the GOP leadership.

Auditor Clears Funds In Village Libel Suit

An audit report of the $25,000 bond issue fund used for the construction of a public works garage in Saugerties, a dominant facor in a $100,000 libel suit threatened by Mayor George P. Holmes, declared the account in order.

An itemized accounting of the fund was made public today in a letter to Mayor Holmes dated March 12 from Alfred D. Ronder and Co., certified accountants of Kingston.

According to the report, the proceeds of the $25,000 bond issue was expended as follows:

Material, supplies and subcontracts $19,117.38; wages paid to village employes $2,916.04 for a total cost of $22,033.42. The balance of $2,966.58 was transferred to the 1963 Municipal Buildings Renovation Account.

Mayor Holmes announced March 8 that he would institute a $100,000 libel suit against members of the Village Party which is opposing him and the Independent Party in the March 19 village elections.

The Saugerties mayor said articles supplied by the Village Party and published in village newspapers inferred "that I mishandled public funds."

The Village Party claimed in a statement that "seven village street employes were paid five weeks wages each out of the bond issue funds and this money was used to make up the shortage in the budget for street department wages for the current year."

The Independent Party contends that the arrangement in which street department employes were used to provide the labor for construction of the public works garage saved village taxpayers $3,000.

A summons and complaint outlining the issues of the law suit were served Monday on two members of the Village Party, Robert Moser, a member of Saugerties Central School faculty, and Howard S. Lezette, an officer of Martin Cantine Co. Both are members of the Village Board of Trustees.

The complaint must be answered in writing in 20 days. As the election is scheduled for Tuesday, March 19, the answer could be returned after the election has been decided.

Voting Hours

Voting will be at the village clerk's office in the municipal building from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Running with the mayor for reelection as trustees are Elton L. Johnson, Sheldon (Ted) Longendyke and Frank Short. Village Party candidates are William Ziegler for mayor, and Maurice (Hank) Clements, Jerome Daley and William (Boo) Schafer for trustees.

College Names Library Director and Historian

Two additional appointments were announced today by the office of Dr. Dale B. Lake, president of the Ulster County Community College.

They were:

Gordon L. Kidd as director of the college library and Dr. Salvatore Mondello with the rank of assistant professor.

Kidd is currently serving as assistant director of Readers Service at State University of New York at Buffalo and has been with that institution since 1959. Prior to going to Buffalo, Kidd served in the Rochester Public Library.

He received his bachelor's degree from Union College and his master's in library science from the University of California at Berkeley. He has been active in professional circles and will bring to his new position a wealth of professional and administrative experience.

Kidd is a veteran of the U. S. Army, is married and the father of five children. He currently resides at 78 Fairfield Street, Buffalo.

He will assume his new duties as director of library April 15 and immediately moved forward with the many tasks related to the establishment of a library which will be ready when the college opens for its first year of operation Sept. 26 at 214 West Chestnut Street.

Dr. Mondello received his bachelor's, master's and doctoral in philosophy degrees from New York University.

The new faculty member at the local Community College is currently an assistant professor of history at Rider College and also is a part time lecturer in the evening division at Rutgers University. He also has served as a part time lecturer at N. Y. U. and at Brooklyn College. He has been a research associate with Sleepy Hollow Restorations, Inc., and has published professional articles in Social Science.

Dr. and Mrs. Mondello are the parents of one child and currently reside at 333 West State Street, Trenton, N. J.

He will assume his new duties in September, and, with the faculty administration, will be responsible for the development of a social science curriculum for the new college.

Diefendorf Proposals for More Taxes To Help Schools Gets Cool Reception

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Diefendorf Committee's proposals for additional local taxes on personal incomes, utility bills and real estate to support schools received a cool reception today from a Legislature beset with fiscal problems.

The committee announced its final recommendations Tuesday, preparatory to going out of existence after a turbulent, 2½ years that included an historic revision last year in the formula for distributing state aid to public schools.

The final recommendations contained no proposals for further, major increases in the state aid, now approximately $1 billion a year.

Charles H. Diefendorf of Buffalo, the chairman, said decisions on the level of aid now were in the hands of the Legislature.

Previous recommendations for effecting economies in school operations, such as longer school days and school years to get more use out of costly buildings, were reaffirmed by the committee.

It reiterated its proposal of last year that school districts be authorized to levy a 1 per cent sales tax. The districts would band on a countywide basis to impose and collect the levy.

In addition, the committee said districts should be given the option of imposing one or more of these levies:

1. A 1 per cent personal income tax that would be collected by the state and distributed to school districts.
2. A tax, ranging to a maximum of 3 per cent, on utility bills of individual households.
3. A countywide real estate tax under which resources of districts with high-value industrial plants would be used to help districts with a smaller tax base.

In addition to recommendations previous announced, the committee also called for:

Elimination of a ceiling on the amount of increased aid a district may receive under a 1962 revision of the aid formula. The change would cost the state $4 million a year. Prospects of approval are slim.

Rocky Names 3 More to Posts, Unsalaried Jobs

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller today appointed Mrs. Ione P. Barrett of Katonah to the Board of Visitors of the Westfield State Farm for a term ending in February 1970.

She succeeds Mrs. Helen F. Rosenberg of Bronxville, whose term expired.

Rockefeller also appointed Mrs. Lee B. Mailler of Cornwall-on-Hudson and Mrs. Robert L. Bates of the Town of New Windsor to the Board of Trustees of Washington's Headquarters in Newburgh.

Mrs. Mailler, named for a term ending April 1, 1968, succeeds William Forrest of Cornwall. Mrs. Bates, whose term is of the same length, succeeds Burke Boyce of Vails Gate.

The governor Tuesday named Ralph A. Russo, a Middletown businessman, to the Board of Visitors of the Otisville State Training School for Boys to succeed the late Gerard Van Buren.

All four appointments are to unsalaried posts.

Habit

Some inhabitants of Styria, Tyrol and other regions believe that arsenic compounds exert a tonic effect and the habit of arsenic eating is prevalent in these regions, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Spring Carnival Slated March 23

The Spring Carnival sponsored by Rip Van Winkle Council will be held at Plattekill on March 23. Costumes are optional for the carnival, but the Council is asking all members to come in costume.

Dates of May 3-4-5 have been announced for the USEAS Convention at the Concord Hotel, Lake Kiamesha. All members are invited.

It has been announced that Joe Shapiro passed his Amateur Instructor's exams at Killington.

Conciliates Complaint

NEW YORK (AP)—The State Commission for Human Rights announced today it had conciliated a complaint by a Bronx Negro against an Upstate summer resort which allegedly refused to rent him and his family a bungalow because of their color.

J. Edward Conway, a member of the commission, said the owners of the Stardust Colony, of Earlton, Greene County, agreed that in the future they would not rent bungalows on a discriminatory basis.

The owners also agreed to pay $150 in expenses to Charles H. Newsome, a 56-year-old baker who filed the complaint, the announcement said.

The resort is owned by Paul Gaspercic and Edna Zielinski, the commission said.

Prison Guard Accused

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—A 24-year-old guard at Clinton Prison in Dannemora was held at the county jail today on a charge that he solicited a bribe from a prison inmate.

Gary W. Lawyer was arrested Tuesday at his home in Chazy and accused of agreeing to smuggle contraband into the prison for $50.

Dist. Atty. Thomas R. North said the items included whisky, prescription drugs such as seconal and codeine, and sex magazines.

Lawyer, a father of two and a guard at the prison for three years was ordered held for grand-jury action.

Hoffa Confident Of Nationwide Contract in '64

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, predicts his union will have no serious trouble winning a comprehensive nationwide contract with transportation companies next year to replace separate working agreements.

Hoffa told an audience of about 2,200 persons at Cornell University Tuesday night that he was certain such a contract could "be put together without any strikes."

At a meeting with students here earlier in the day, Hoffa repeated his desire for reinstatement of the Teamsters as a member of the AFL-CIO.

But he said the union would return to the national federation only on two conditions—that "we remain an autonomous international union and that we have the right to organize any workers."

Meany Attacks Rocky's Plan in Employe Fight

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller's proposal for settling a prolonged controversy among employes of non-profit hospitals was under attack today by George Meany, national president of the AFL-CIO.

"This legislation imposes uncalled for restrictions and limitations on the economic weapons of a labor organization," Meany said of the Rockefeller proposal for allowing hospital workers to join labor unions and bargain collectively if they renounce strikes as a bargaining weapon.

Meany commented in a telegram to Rockefeller.

Meany reflected the views of the State AFL-CIO leadership, which has argued that any no-strike provision should be negotiated by labor and management and not imposed by law.

Local 1199, Drug and Hospital Employes Union, has continued to fight for the bill despite opposition from its parent labor organization.

While the AFL-CIO has opposed the bill on one side, a statewide association of private hospitals also has registered opposition on grounds that union activity among employes could hamper hospitals' main job of caring for patients.

Many Upstate Republicans, reflecting the hospital viewpoint, are said to be against the measure.

Legislative sources said last week the measure appeared doomed in its present form.

NEW COMMON MARKET AREA—By 1966 the six Central American republics, shown on Newsmap, hope to have their own common market in operation. The six nations have a population of some 13.5 million. Per capita income in 1960 was $268, representing a total income of about $36 billion a year. Imports run a bit under $500 million, mostly from the United States. From Mexican to Colombian borders it is 1,200 miles airline. Greatest isthmus width is 400 miles, narrowest 50 miles at the Panama Canal. Total area is a little less than Texas.

Brinkley, Clay, DeGaulle Are Known to Most

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — David Brinkley, Charles de Gaulle and Cassius Clay were the best known names in a list of 37 VIPs used as an identity quiz for 67 freshmen at Western Kentucky State College recently.

Brinkley was identified by 66 of the students; De Gaulle, by 65, and boxer Clay by 64. On the other end of the scale, 62 were unable to identify correctly Associate Justice Byron White of the Supreme Court; 55 missed Senate Minority Leader Everett Dirksen; 53 didn't know Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield—one student thought he was a movie star. One student among the 36 who missed the correct identification of artist Pablo Picasso, thought he was a tennis player.

Television names, generally, did pretty well in the test. Only six students missed Dick Van Dyke, and nine, Carol Burnett. Fourteen, incredible as it may sound, were unable to peg Richard Burton—the same number that failed to recognize baseball player Stan Musial.

Results of the quiz were sent to NBC's newscaster David Brinkley by the woman English instructor who gave the test. Upshot of the test is that she assigned all 67 to read a daily newspaper and weekly news magazines. Obviously, they already watch television.

"CBS Reports" will devote its April 3 program to the controversial book, "Silent Spring," by Rachel Carson, and the use of chemical insecticides.

ABC will inaugurate a series of five - minute fashion shows on March 28 with Suzy Parker modeling the clothes. The six programs will be seen on Thursdays 11:55 a.m. 12 noon.

"You Don't Say," the live word game that replaces "Young Dr. Malone" on NBC April 1, is produced by Lucille Ball's company and has had a test and shakedown period on a Los Angeles station. Which recalls that NBC is describing CBS' next year's evening schedule as "fun and games" while it grandly calls its own "drama and diversity."

ABC will definitely continue "The Price is Right" in its 11-11:30 a.m. daily slot when it moves from NBC in September, but has not yet decided where or when to spot the nighttime edition. . . .

Recommended tonight: "Bob Hope Show," NBC, 9-10 (EST)—Frank Sinatra, Robert Goulet and Brenda Lee are the guest stars; "Hollywood: The Great Stars," ABC, 10-11—a short but incisive inspecion of the great film names.

Saugerties P-TA Panel Program Slated March 21

Meet Your School Administrators will be the topic of the program of Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association meeting to be held at the Main Street School Thursday, March 21, at 8 p. m.

The presentation will provide an opportunity for parents and others interested in public education to become better acquainted with the school's administration and to meet and talk with the new Superintendent of the Saugerties Central Schools, Dr. Dexter O. Arnold.

Dr. Arnold will head the panel and act as moderator of the program. Others participating will be Miss May Evans, director of elementary education and principal of Mt. Marion School; David S. Cunningham, principal of Saugerties High School; Norman Bolinder, principal of Main Street School and Patrick Buonfiglio, principal of Glasco, North Flatbush and Malden Schools.

Each of the administrators will outline his or her responsibilities and briefly comment on some of the problems encountered. Following these short talks there will be a question and answer period at which time the audience may direct questions to the panel concerning school policy, practices and operations.

Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

Paltz Professor Resigns to Accept Binghamton Post

Dr. Alfred B. Rollins, for 14 years a professor of American History at State University College, New Paltz, has resigned to accept a position at Harpur College, Binghamton.

Harpur is the liberal arts unit in the State University system. Dr. Rollins is a graduate of Wesleyan University, Phi Beta Kappa, and holds both the Masters and Doctors Degree from Harvard University.

During his many years at New Paltz he was active in college life acting as a chairman of many important committees such as both the scholarship and the curriculum committees. For the past two years he has been president of the New Paltz Chapter of the American Association of University Professors and has given leadership to faculty efforts to introduce democratic procedures into the administration of the college.

His latest book entitled Roosevelt and Howe has received wide acclaim throughout the United States getting flattering reviews in such journals as the New York Times and the Saturday Review of Literature. Dr. Rollins is also author of Roosevelt and the Age of Action and is at present working on a book on Woodrow Wilson which will appear next year.

Patrolman Indicted On Adultery Charge

DELHI, N.Y. (AP)—A 27-year-old Sidney patrolman was under indictment today on a charge of committing adultery with a 58-year-old widow who had accused the policeman and his wife of extortion.

The indictment, handed up Tuesday by a Delaware County grand jury, charges that Patrolman Thomas Pappas committed adultery with Mrs. Helen Potter, also of Sidney.

Pappas and his wife, Nancy, 26, were arrested Jan. 15 on charges of attempting to extort $5,000 from Mrs. Potter. Details of the alleged attempt were not disclosed.

No indictment was returned against Mrs. Pappas and the extortion charges against her was dismissed. Pappas was not indicted on the extortion charge.

He was suspended from the police force after his arrest and has been free on $500 bail. His wife had been free in her own recognizance.

Attempted extortion is a felony, adultery a misdemeanor.

Hearing Adjourned

BROCKVILLE, Ont. (AP) — A preliminary hearing for Mrs. Dolores Clow, 36, of Prescott, on a charge of embezzlement of $228,000 was adjourned Tuesday until March 25.

Mrs. Clow is accused of embezzling the money from Billings Motors Ltd. of Brockville when she worked for the firm as an accountant. She was arrested in Northern New York State last October.

She pleaded innocent to the charge at the start of the hearing Monday.

Bridge Advice Available

TORONTO (AP)—The advice of the Ontario Highways Department will be available to a group promoting a new bridge across the St. Lawrence River between Kingston, Ont., and Cape Vincent, N.Y.

Highways Minister Charles S. MacNaughton said Tuesday night that A. R. Dick, assistant deputy highways minister, would meet with the group "from time to time for advisory purposes only."

Interested persons from both sides of the border have formed a committee to push for construction of the bridge.

Canal Hearings Due

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A legislative committee plans public hearings on a report by a consulting firm that modernization of the State Barge Canal System would do little to help the state's economy.

The findings of the consultants, hired by the Joint Legislative Committee on the Barge Canal, were announced Tuesday.

The committee said it would withhold a final decision on the question until after a series of public hearings on the study report. No dates for the hearings were announced.

Police Say Carnival Man Admits 13 Fires

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Police say an unemployed carnival handyman has admitted setting 13 fires in private garages in the Kensington section of the city since 1959.

Charged with third-degree arson Tuesday night was Jerome P. Wyles, 26, of Buffalo.

Police said Wyles gave no reason for starting the fires and said he did not wait to watch them.

JUST LIKE OLD MAN RIVER

If you want a truck that does its work without yelling for attention all the time, buy a "new reliable" Chevrolet.

You have to take care of it; it's a machine. But this isn't a full-time activity. The clear idea is that the truck works for you, not vice versa.

The way to build such a truck is to put more quality into it. For example, Chevrolet doesn't build one type of suspension system for all sizes of trucks. Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense?

Conventional pickups have double-wall construction in cabs, doors, lower side panels. Roofs are insulated. Body floors are select wood, not metal. Tailgate chains are wrapped in rubber. If you'd like to examine or drive a new '63 Chevrolet truck, just call us. We'll be right over.

VIP, OR JUST ANNOYED?

A business man returning from Venezuela some time ago reported that Caracas, the capital, had many telephones but no telephone books. Subscribers had to compile their own directories.

Whether or not this is still true of Caracas, something like it could happen here. It could, that is, if the present increase in unlisted telephone numbers continue. Such numbers comprise 13 per cent of the total in Los Angeles now, and 14 per cent in Chicago.

Once such numbers were sought only by a few celebrities, as a protection against unwanted calls. Rich men often found that a large percentage of their calls came from persons wanting money. There also were many rings from cranks and salesmen. But in recent times large number of less wealthy or notable individuals have begun applying for unlisted numbers as a sign of status.

Perhaps an even more potent cause for desiring an unlisted number is the growing practice of sales solicitation by telephone. This increasing harassment can be averted only by leaving the family number out of the directory.

Telephone companies are not happy over the trend. Between subscribers who want the numbers of certain people, and these same people who do not want their numbers known, the companies are in the middle. But despite higher charges for nonlisting, it is on the increase. If salesmen persist in badgering consumers by telephone, the trend is likely to continue.

ROOTS OF WEATHER

This is the age of science and the age of specialization within science, and the layman owes it to himself—since he's paying for more and more of the nation's research—to keep up with it all.

For instance, most people know what a meterologist is. He doesn't study meteors. But how many are familiar with the work of a micrometeorologist? No, he doesn't study little meteors, nor is he a short weatherman.

A micrometeorologist is devoted to the study of the earth's climate from the surface up to a height of 10 feet.

There is more weather than one might think at this low altitude. Even a difference of a few inches in height can mean significant changes in temperature, pressure, wind velocity and the like. All play their part in the larger weather picture.

Currently, a group of micrometeorologists from the University of Wisconsin are camping with their instruments on the ice of Lake Mendota, collecting data on the details of freezing and thawing, relations among sun, water and wind and the mechanics of lake currents. Out of it may come better knowledge of how snow fences and wind breaks operate and how soil erodes.

There still remains the problem of what to call those scientist-astronauts who will specialize in the study of meteors while orbiting in a space station. Macrometeorologists?

PEACE CORPS POTENTIAL

An interesting step toward helping to make the most of returning Peace Corps personnel has been taken by the University of Minnesota. Ten tuition scholarships have been established for Peace Corps men and women who are graduates of the university or received their Peace Corps training there.

The scholarships will be supplemented by grants from private sources. The recipients will thus be enabled to complete their graduate studies, which in some cases will have been interrupted by Peace Corps service.

The idea behind the establishment of these scholarships is an excellent one. It embodies the belief that those who have served abroad in the Peace Corps will have the potential to make a notable contribution to American society, and should be helped to the fullest possible realization of this potential.

Other universities and colleges would do well to consider establishment of a similar program. The more Peace Corps returnees can be attracted into graduate education, the better for the country.

'These Days'

SOURING THE MILK OF HUMAN KINDNESS

You come into a town, as I did into Norfolk, Va., last week, and you find it concerned not with problems of world import but with an immediately localized case of rape and murder. This is evil in the form that strikes home at everybody.

The particular rape and murder that had Norfolk in an uproar was an extraordinarily repellent crime. A 14-year-old girl had pinned a notice in a laudromat that she wanted babysitting jobs. This gave a 23-year-old sailor with a wife and 16-month-old son a gruesome idea. He called the 14-year-old's home, said he needed a babysitter for the night—and then, after driving her off into a marsh, proceeded to assault and kill her.

This is the sort of crime that is making our society a ghastly one to live in. Not only is it hideous in itself, but it strikes directly at all ease in social relations. It poisons the milk of human kindness at its source, makes everybody distrustful of everyone else, and condemns people to staying home and gazing at the wall.

The institution of the babysitter was, in its origin, a happy response to a great need. People can't get servants any more, and young couples often work in towns that are far distant from their parents and other relatives. If they are to have any social mobility they must have access to babysitters in default of gradma or a live-in cook. The babysitters, teen-age girls for the most part, take jobs because they offer pleasant ways of making a little money. Usually the privilege of raiding the refrigerator and watching television goes along with the work. The whole business comes under the heading of fun as well as being a gratefully received service.

Now, the man who would take advantage of the innocent institution of babysitting to carry out a rape and murder is preying on the best impulses of human beings. Unfortunately, the contemporary world seems to be breeding more and more of this type of utterly depraved monster.

While I was driving out of Norfolk I noticed that many sailors were trying to thumb rides. They weren't being picked up. Though my own car was stuffed and I wouldn't have been able to take along an extra passenger anyway, I reflected nonetheless that I wouldn't have picked up a stranger even if I had four empty seats. It's been a long time now since I have accommodated a hitchhiker.

Why? Because of the repellent cases I have heard about of hitchhikers who have robbed and even murdered their benefactors. A couple of years age there were stories of particular stretches of road in Utah and New Mexico where the robbing and raping and killing of generous car drivers and their families was an almost weekly occurrence.

As I drove out of Norfolk thinking about the inhumanity of anybody who would repay kindness and generosity with a revolting assault, I thought back to my own young days as a hitchhiker. That was in 1920 and 1921, when the automobile age was just getting into its stride. I was working in California in an orange packing house, and whenever I had any time free I used to hitchhike from Claremont, near Los Angeles, down to Palm Springs on the desert. You could always count on getting a ride. Later I hitchhiked all over California, through the San Joaquin Valley and up into the great national parks of Sequoia and Yosemite. People were not afraid of hitchhikers then, for insofar as there was a criminal element in hobodom it was still riding the rods of the freight trains. The automobile roads have only recently been spoiled for innocent hitchhikers by a vicious element that recognizes no obligation to anyone who is kind enough to accommodate a stranger by giving him a lift.

For a safecracker one might have sympathy. The safecracker does not betray generosity. If he plans a bank robbery, he must pit his skill against intricate locks, strong steel doors, and electrified burglar alarm systems. With the safecracker it is strength against strength, with no quarter given or asked. I could wish him an easy sentence, with time off for good behavior.

But a man who would take criminal advantage of an adolescent babysitter or a kindly middle-aged car driver should get the book thrown at him to the full extent permitted by the law.

The DOCTOR SAYS

Acceptance Gives Bonus Of Serenity at Menopause

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

All life is change, but the change of life that occurs in most women in their middle 40s is a special kind of change. It is characterized by a gradual cessation of the function of the ovaries. As a result, there is a lengthening of the time between menstrual periods and a shortening of duration of periods.

Aside from that, many women have no symptoms. Others may have intermittent hot flushes involving the head, neck, and chest, with or without profuse sweating.

I am frequently asked how long these spells continue, and can only say that every woman is a law unto herself. In some, they disappear in two or three years, while in others they persist into the late 60s.

Such other symptoms as headache, dizziness, fatigue, joint pains, irritability, and nervous tension are not due to the menopause. In some they may be a natural part of aging, but the cause should be sought. When found, it should be treated. Many a woman who has shrugged off one or more of these symptoms as due to the menopause has cheated herself of relief.

I am often asked, "When, in the menopausal period, does the possibility of childbearing actually end?" This is very hard to determine. There are occasional freakish exceptions to the usual rule that, when menstruation ceases completely, childbearing is no longer possible.

In most women in whom menopausal symptoms are fairly mild, a sedative and sympathetic reassurance by her doctor after a thorough examination is all the treatment required. A few women whose symptoms are extremely unpleasant may require some replacement of the female hormones for a while.

This form of treatment should be given only if symptoms complained of are definitely due to ovarian deficiency, and should not be given until menstruation has stopped completely. Furthermore, it should not be given to any woman who has uterine fibroids or endometriosis, although in such a woman male hormone may be beneficial.

Treatment with female hormones should not be continued indefinitely. This only postpones the inevitable adjustment the body must make, and prolongs duration of unpleasant symptoms. Although course of the menopause is fairly smooth in most women, the symptoms are likely to be more troublesome when the ovarian function is interrupted suddenly, as in those women who have both ovaries removed—usually at the time the uterus is taken out. Such women definitely need a period of treatment with female hormones.

It is most important to accept calmly change of life. Most women can achieve a greater serenity after the menopause than they have ever known. Just because the body is aging is no reason not to stay young in heart.

"Every Now and Then I Throw Him a Bone!"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprse Assn.

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — President Kennedy's first "manpower report" to Congress is seen here as inaugurating something brand new in the federal government. This was a special message on unemployment — where it is now, where it's going, what should be done about it. The President calls this "the No. 1 economic problem."

The message and an accompanying comprehensve report from Department of Labor on "manpower requirements, resources, utlization and training" brought together all the separate programs the President has proposed to reduce unemployment.

THESE PROGRAMS BEGAN with the Depressed Area Redevelopment Act of 1961 and the Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962. One section of this latter act calls for the annual report to Congress on the country's manpower situation.

In time, this message may rank in importance with the President's budget and economic messages. The manpower report will deal with human resources instead of fiscal resources. For as the President says, "Manpower is the basic resource." . . .

"The ideal of full employment—in the large sense that each individual shall become all that he is capable of becoming and shall contribute fully to the well-being of the nation even as he fully shares in that well-being—is at the heart of our democratic belief," says the President.

Programs Kennedy has proposed this year to increase employment include tax changes, the youth employment bill, expanded educational opportunities at all levels, a strengthened unemployment insurance system, broadened minimal wage law coverage and civil rights measures which will end discrimination in employment.

BRINGING THESE PROGRAMS together puts the focus on their common ultimate objective—reduction of unemployment, over 5.5 per cent the last five years.

The statistics and charts in the manpower report all seem to point to the conclusion that unemployment will get worse as the population and labor force grow in the 1960s and 1970s, unless preventative measures can be taken now.

A foreword to the Labor Department's report by Secretary W. Willard Wirtz calls attention to two other supplementary reports which will complete the survey of human resources.

The first, already issued, covers training activities in the first six months since the Manpower Development Act became law. It shows that 25,000 workers, unemployed for more than a year are now in training in 700 schools at a cost of about $1,200 for each worker.

The second supplementary report, still to be issued by Anthony J. Celebrezze, secretary, Health, Education and Welfare, is to include a survey on vocational training.

ALL THIS MATERIAL is to be made the subject of extensive congressional investigation. In handling manpower legislation during the last Congress, a Senate Labor subcommittee on employment was set up under Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa. He intends to hold further hearings over several months.

Owing to the present unsettled conditions in the House Education and Labor Committee, it is uncertain whether Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., will hold similar hearings. But eventually it is hoped there will be joint Senate-House hearings on all problems affecting employment.

In one sense, this may cut across jurisdiction of the Joint Committee on Economic Report which was created by the Full Employment Act of 1946. But in recent years the economic issues which only indirectly influence employment.

It is the threat of growing unemployment in the years ahead that has brought on this new, special attention from the President and Congress.

A White House conference on unemployment is under consideration for this spring, to build up public support for the President's program. Later, there will be regional conferences held by Department of Labor.

'Blockade', 'Act of War' Rests on Interpretation

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—When is a blockade an "act of war," and when is it just a pacific exercise of national rights? President Kennedy has said a blockade of Cuba would be an "act of war," but his use of the word "blockade" is too broad.

The answer is to be found in "Corpus Juris Secondum," an authoritative compilation of law based on judicial decisions. This book is often used for reference in our Federal Courts in considering cases, including those that involve seizure of or damage to property when a "blockade" occurs.

Definition Given

Under the heading, "forcible measures of redress short of war," the following definition is given:

"Certain measures of redress taken by one nation against another are regarded as short of war, although they may involve an exercise of force. Such acts are usually classified as retorsion, reprisal, pacific blockade, and embargo.

"The mere suspension of the relations of peace usually subsisting between two nations ,and the taking by one of them of such measures of redress against the other, does not of itself constitute war.

"Severance of relations, while not involving actual force, is nevertheless coercive. A severance of diplomatic relations is a non-amicable measure, and there is a possibility that at any time one government or the other may engage in various methods of retortion or retaliation without state of war resulting therefrom. . . .

"The so-called 'pacific blockade' is a means of coercion, ordinarily treated as falling short of war, consisting in the interruption of commercial intercourse with certain ports or coasts of a state to secure redress for an international wrong.

"The accepted position is that pacific blockades should not bear on third states except as they are affected by the constraint directly applied to the port or ports blockaded."

It is added that, if the blockade requires the seizure of the vessels of a third state, then a "regular-blockade" might become necessary and this could involve a state of war.

But the main point is that "measures short of war" are a recognized right of redress in International Law. The United States in 1940, during the Administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, engaged in several such measures, including the "leasing" of several destroyers to Great Britain for use in her war with Germany, into which this country had not yet entered.

Would Repeat Action

Under the Kennedy Administration, the U. S. Navy intercepted some foreign vessels last autumn when events reached a climax in Cuba. It was called a "quarantine," but it was in fact a form of 'blockade." This could have been construed by other governments as an "act of war" in the accepted sense, but Mr. Kennedy took that chance. He implied in his latest press conference, on March 6, that he would do the same thing again if he felt it necessary.

So the argument turns on what steps it is necessary to take to keep armament and shipments of oil and other products from reaching Cuba. A "pacific blockade" is a legitimate measure of reprisal for the hostile acts committed by the Castro government, such as the seizure of American property without compensation and the acceptance from the Soviet Government of offensive weapons, including missiles and airplanes capable of being used to injure American citizens in the Southeastern part of the United States.

As a matter of fact, the United States could choose to regard the landing of "offensive weapons" in Cuba as a hostile act by Russia directed at this country and could hold the Soviet Government to accountability. Certainly there is no question but that the Castro Government committed an act of war when it allowed Soviet troops and armament to land on its soil for the purpose of preparing for an attack on the United States.

Thus, "blockade" and an "act of war" are words that depend for their real meaning on what interpretation a government chooses to give them. A course of "watchful waiting" can always be adopted until some overt act removes all doubt as to what is an "act of war." Economic pressure, however, can be exerted at any time by means of a boycott and by other "measures short of war," including "pacific blockade." These steps would be "defensive" and would be designed to weaken the Castro Government's power to injure this country or the peoples of other countries in this hemisphere.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

There was mush under Ernest Hemingway's armor-plate. He was a tough man on a typewriter and he could drink tough and talk tough, but behind the whiskers and the steel-rimmed spectacles was a lonely sentimentalist. Sixteen years ago, Mark Hellinger died and, shortly before the end, Hemingway wrote a tough-guy note to his friend.

I have it. It is two-pages single-spaced and some of the things one man might write to another cannot be published, but, underneath the kidding is a sentimental warning to a pal. Hellinger, a one-time Broadway columnist and a Hollywood producer, had a working arrangement with Hemingway to turn some of the author's books into motion pictures.

"Dear Mark:" the letter says in part, "Only thing that spooks me is you over-working. Don't do it, damn it. Over working, over drinking, over anything, over-working is the worst. The others are self-liquidating. In over-drinking, the liver turns on you and tromples you with those hobnails. But that over-working. Lay off that over-working papa.

"I can see how you'd look as a corpse. Wonderful in a black shirt. But hell pappy, it won't be the same as having you around making just enough and not too many of those pictures. And when that old dirt lands on the box, no matter how expensive you are dead for a long time and from my laboratory (sic) experiments I can promise you pappy there isn't any heaven and there isn't any hell and you don't have any fun when you are dead. Even if they cremate you.

"When are you going to have Naked City dans le cans, en los boites ,en latas as we polyglots (polygotry is still freely practiced in remote districts of Utah but only in the same family) say? Hay any chance de faire shipper aux Sun Valley (Valley del Sol) Idaho? Drinkamos un poco. Hay eleven saloons (bars) todos con le gambling."

"Walkeremos media milla. Put you in shape. Every fifty yards in roadwork stop en saloon all drinks in Ketchum on the house until ten A. M. Bad house in Hailey (Dist. 12 miles. Somebody else drive). Poor old pana (me) raised with most of the croupiers. Switch own dice at crap table.

"I have to do le writing but would lay off couple of days to see Naked City and get my partner in shape. Want to get that picture of you in that expensive box out of my mind. Better comb out, Mark. If can't make world premiere of picture am prepared to state without seeing it or never seeing it if you insist and have any doubts on it is greatest picture since Birth of a Nation then come out for Xmas. (Note: Hellinger died Dec. 21)

"Will have a lot of work under belt and be in good shape to get you in shape. We could do something sort of the reverse of Bill Brown's or Muldoon's. 9 a. m. commence le drinking. 11 a. m. Down hill racing on wild horses. 12:30 Walk from the stables to the Ram (bar). 1:30 p. m. Heavy lunch. Afternoon: sleep.

"5 p. m. The tables. 7:30 p. m. Visit bars. 8:30 p. m. Dinner in bed. Movie: Fight to the death between midgets. 0300: Garroting of gamblers. Dragging of gamblers through streets behind wild horses. 0430: Hanging of psychoanalysts. 0600: Free electric shocks. 0730: Breakfast with imported beers. 0800: Drinking (friendly).

"'We could organize some sort of health schedule like that for Christmas. So long old partner. Take care of yourself kid. Really. I was truly worried about you and I hope you will take care. Dying is the one thing we can't remedy and true.

"Sorry you couldn't come down here (Note: Havana), but know what you must have been up against in N. Y. Your pal, Ernie."

As a document, the letter is unimportant. It's a letter from one friend to another. The tone is rough, but the worry is genuine. These two were not destined to live long. Each felt the bony finger on his shoulder. Hellinger had sustained two heart attacks and, in Club 21, he said: "How old is old?"

He was 44, and, although I did not know it when he asked the question, he had 70 days left. Hemingway still had a number of years to go, but he was obsessed with death and he wrote it to death. Hellinger kept his final appointment at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, growling: "I hope you doctors know what the hell you're doing."

Then curtains. Hemingway kept his appointment at dawn. He had undertaken a long drive home from a clinic. His spirits dragged. In bed, sometimes, dark thoughts chase each other in a carousel of doom. The author got up, went downstairs, and shot himself.

The letter was long forgotten. The manly kidding was over . . .

Growth of Lions Home Show Told By Stall Tuesday

A sure sign of Spring is the activity surrounding the forthcoming Kingston Lions Club 16th annual exposition and Home Show scheduled for April 23 through the 27 at the National Guard Armory, Manor Avenue.

Tuesday's luncheon meeting highlighted the origin of the Exposition as Lion William Stall related how difficult it was for the first Exposition to get underway in February of 1948. That year the show was held in the Municipal Auditorium . . . and boasted 29 exhibitors. Stall related how the Exposition has grown each year to bring this year's total number of booths to 131.

Every Lion in the 100-member Kingston Lions Club has been given an assignment to insure the success of this year's Exposition, according to Joseph Scholar, chairman.

In the past, the Industrial Exposition and Home Show, which attracts 15,000 people yearly to the Armory, has been proclaimed as a fine example of "True Lionism at Work" by such far away Lions organizations as the New Delhi, India Club.

As in the past, an effort is being made this year to display a varied and attractive selection of booths exhibiting everything from wildlife to radar screens.

This year's Exposition Committee consists of Lions Thomas Henebery, Lawrence Jenson, Richard Kalish, Peter Keresman, Walter Kostromitin, Charles Levengood, Harold O'Connor, Joseph Scholar, Hubert Richter; co-chairman, John Reynolds; co-chairman, David Ennis, Lloyd Findholt, Arthur Foehser, Max Oppenheimer, Minford Overfield, Karl Pitcock, Matthias Richardson, Robert Strickland, Warren Smith, Bud Stewart and Warren Dunham.

No Loss of Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Upstate congressmen say they have been assured that the proposed merger of the Syracuse district office of the Internal Revenue Service with the Buffalo office will result in no loss of services to Central New York taxpayers.

Reps. R. Walter Riehlman of Tully and Alexander Pirnie of Utica, both Republicans, said Tuesday they had been told that all proposed changes at the Syracuse office involved behind-the-scenes activities.

In a letter to the congressmen, Edward F. Preston, assistant commissioner for administration, said the IRS would maintain a field office in Syracuse to answer taxpayers' questions, conduct audits and confer on audit disagreements.

Ice Jam Breaking

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP)—The huge ice jam in the lower Niagara River is starting to break up.

A seven-mile plug of ice from Queenston to Niagara-On-The-Lake has begun to flow into Lake Ontario, with mild weather opening a wide channel for three miles below Queenston.

A few days of continued mild weather is expected to clear the river except for fringe ice on the shorelines.

Committee Will Get Brutality Complaint Case

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A lengthy debate on a proposal to set up a citizen's advisory board to probe allegations of police brutality was ended early today when Mayor Henry E. Gillette ordered the matter referred to committee.

Nearly 70 persons were heard by the City Council before the meeting broke up at 2:45 a.m.—nearly seven hours after it began.

A racially mixed group of about 500 persons crowded into the chambers and stood in the halls and stairways outside.

The proposal to establish the advisory board stemmed from a series of recent complaints from citizens about what they called unnecessary and excessive use of force by police in making arrests. The board would have the power to investigate and make recommendations in matters relative to police brutality.

Shortly after the meeting opened, two men, identified as policemen, presented the council with a petition they said included 40,000 signatures opposing the establishment of the board.

Opponents of the plan picked up support Tuesday when Goodman A. Sarachan, chairman of the State Investigation Commission, called the board "ridiculous."

Sarachan made the remark at a luncheon meeting of the Rochester Rotary Club.

Dr. Walter Cooper, chairman of the Community Affairs Committee of the Rochester chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, told the council that Negroes "have misgivings about the quality of justice they can expect in Rochester."

He said the board "would go a long way in restoring confidence in the police bureau."

Mrs. Constance Mitchell, Democratic supervisor of the city's third ward, said the "present situation is horrible. . .and unbelievable."

Pre-Measurement Service

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office announced today that farmers may avail themselves of pre-measurement service being offered by the ASC Office.

Chairman E. M. Wood advised that the service is being made available again this year, for diverted and permitted acreage under the Feed Grain Program.

Requests for the service must be made to the ASC Office between March 15 and May 15.

Astronomy Film To Be Shown at West Hurley Hall

Boy Scout Troop 66 of West Hurley will present a free showing of the sound motion picture, Universe, considered one of the finest movies ever produced on astronomy.

The film will be presented at the West Hurley Fire hall Friday, 8:30 p. m. after the regular scout meeting.

By using live photography and animation, the film explores the universe and the far reaches of outer space. A night in the life of astronomer Dr. Donald McRae at Canada's David Dunlap Observatory is shown as he explains the vast knowledge gathered about our universe.

The West Hurley group is opening the last half of the scout meeting to the public to allow anyone interested in astronomy or the universe to see this unique fiilm. This will be the only public showing.

Any groups of more than 10 wishing to attend should contact H. Hopkins of Shokan or David Fox of Kingston so they can plan seating arrangements.

Rocky's First Veto

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A minor, private-claim bill received Gov. Rockefeller's first veto of the 1963 legislative session.

The measure Rockefeller vetoed Tuesday would have authorized the Court of Claims to hear a suit by Jacob M. Levine & Sons of Albany to recover a check for $4,600 that accompanied the construction company's bid on a contract for work at the State University College at Plattsburgh in 1953.

The company said its bid was in error and sought to withdraw it before a contract was awarded.

Companies that bid on state projects are required to make deposits, based on the total amount of their bid, as evidence they are bidding in good faith. The deposits of unsuccessful bidders are returned to them.

Child Health Clinic

A child health conference, conducted by the Ulster County Health Department, will be held at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway, Tuesday, March 19 from 9 to 10 a. m. These clinics are limited to infant and preschool children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio.

Directors of Ulster Library Meet on 14th

Partial reports on the current building fund drive will be given.

A full attendance of members is anticipated.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p. m.

Measure to Ease Bank Expansion Goes to Assembly

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) —A controversial bill to ease restrictions on the right of banks in the state to expand was approved early today by the Assembly Banks Committee and sent to the Assembly floor for a vote.

The legislation is sponsored by Oren Root, state superintendent of banks.

Under the proposal, three large banking regions would be established in the state, and a bank would be permitted to expand anywhere within its own region.

A bank now is limited to operations within one of nine banking districts.

Controversy over the bill centers on the extent to which New York City banks should be permitted to expand in the suburbs.

One of the three new banking regions would comprise, roughly, New York City, Long Island and the lower Hudson Valley. Eastern and northern counties and Central New York would be in the second region, and the remainder of the state in the third.

New York City banks now are barred from establishing branches in Suffolk County and the lower Hudson Valley, but they would have that power under the new bill.

Local banking interests in the affected counties are opposed to expansion of the metropolitan banks into their areas.

Kremlin Charges Trawler Target Of U.S. Vessels

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union charged today three U.S. warships fired dummy shells at a Russian fishing vessel last Friday in international waters about 70 miles east of Norfolk, Va.

A protest to Washington asserted two cruisers and a destroyer fired on the refrigerator trawler in "an act of sheer wantonness which could have grave consequences."

Charges Gross Violation

"The U.S.S.R. government regards this shelling as a gross violation of generally accepted international law standards and of the principles of freedom of navigation in the open sea," an announcement by the Soviet news agency Tass declared.

The Russians said the trawler was engaged in fishing on the high seas when the warships approached at 12:15 p.m.

"In all, four shots were fired, endangering the trawler and her crew," Tass said.

"The Soviet government expects that those guilty will be punished and the necessary measures taken to prevent such actions in the future."

Tass made no mention of dummy, or nonexplosive shells. But Moscow Radio referred to the shells as dummies.

"According to information received, two U.S. cruisers of the Boston type and a destroyer of the Frank type fired at the Soviet refrigerator trawler SRTR 9,000-7, engaged in fishing on the high seas," the radio said.

"At the time of the firing, the Soviet trawler was 70 miles east of Norfolk.

No U. S. Comment

"The U.S. warships at 12:15, fired two artillery rounds with dummies from a range of five miles at the trawler. The shells fell about 130 meters (about 400 feet) from the vessel.

"Subsequently at 12:50 p.m. approaching to within one kilometer (.6 of a mile), they fired two more shots with dummies which fell 60 meters (about 190 feet) from the trawler.

"By their actions the U.S. warships created a threat to the safety of the Soviet trawler and her crew."

The Moscow announcement said the note was delivered in Washington, where there was no immediate comment.

Chamber Upholds 'Sell Area' Idea To Promote Jobs

Sam Pepper, chairman of the Job Expansion Committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, outlined the details of a new two-pronged program at a meeting of the board of directors Tuesday night. The program was enthusiastically approved.

The first phase of the new program will be to "sell" the community to the people themselves. The committee is compiling a complete list of assets and by means of talks before area groups will point out the advantages Kingston has over most communities, as a good place to live and work. "If most residents do not hesitate to express pride in their community or help do something constructive about it," Pepper said, "we cannot attract more people to make this area their home and encourage industrial expansion."

The second phase of the program will be to work with local investors and developers to prepare specific information about land, facilities and building proposals available to industrial prospects.

Chamber president Harry Rigby, who presided at the board meeting referred to the work of the Job Expansion Committee as one of the major projects for 1963.

The executive committee was charged with the responsibility of preparing a tentative budget for the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce for the 1963-64 fiscal year, starting May 1 and present same at the April meeting. Steps were also taken to set up a membership committee and develop plans for a membership drive in April.

Clifford Henze, chairman of the National Legislative Affairs Committee, reported receipt of letters from U. S. Senator Jacob K. Javitts and Congressman J. Ernest Wharton in answer to letters indicating great concern over the mounting national debt, duplicity of Federal programs and the dangers of a tax cut without a reduction in expenditures.

William Belser reported on several actions recommended by his State Legislative Affairs Committee, the details of which will be announced later.

The Chamber of Commerce also decided to check into the interest among various groups in the possibility of promoting the Hudson Valley as a region.

Embezzlers to Die

MOSCOW (AP)—The Lithuanian Supreme Court sentenced two supply officials to the firing squad for embezzling $44,000 worth of state-owned furniture, television sets, cameras and other property.

Two other officials were given 15-year prison terms, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

U. S. ACADEMY ACCEPTS DIARIES—Presenting the personal diaries and papers of Civil War General Phillippe Regis de Trobriand to the U. S. Military Academy's commandant of cadets, Brig. Gen. Richard G. Stilwell, is Commander Charles K. Post, (second from right) a 1919 Annapolis graduate and great-grandson of Gen. de Trobriand. Witnessing the presentation is Maj. Gen. Charles G. Stevenson, (left) U. S. Army Ret., and Waldron K. Post, of Woodstock, nephew of Commander Post and great-grandson of the Civil War general. Post is in his third year at State University College at Oneonta. Gen. de Trobriand fought for the Union forces at Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville and Gettysburg, and as divisional commander against Gen. Robert E. Lee, was brevetted a major general. (U. S. Railroads and Unions Far Apart on Rules for Talks

CHICAGO (AP)—Railroad management and union representatives appeared to be far apart on ground rules for negotiations today as they meet in a new attempt to reach agreement in their long and crucial dispute over work rules.

Each side said it is hopeful of agreement on the issues but neither would go so far as to predict a successful outcome of the talks.

The principal issue confronting the negotiators is the jobs of some 65,000 trainmen and yard workers —including 40,000 firemen—which the railroads seek to eliminate as unnecessary.

H.E. Gilbert, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive, Firemen and Enginemen, one of five unions involved in the work rules dispute, said success of the negotiations will depend on whether the carriers engage in "real collective bargaining."

"The prospect that fruitful negiations will begin and continue lies squarely with management," he said. "We are hopeful that management has discarded its inflexible attitude and is now ready to start hardnose bargaining."

James E. Wolfe, chief negotiator for the railroads, said he, too, is hopeful an agreement can be reached.

"But," he added, "I would hesitate to make any prediction about the outcome until we have a more definite idea of the attitude of the brotherhoods. If they are prepared to dispose of the firemen issue, as one of their leaders indicated they would, that issue might be disposed of expeditiously."

The railroads propose to overhaul long standing work rules which they say provide unnecessay work, a practice known as featherbedding. This, the railroads claim, costs the industry $600 million a year.

About 200,000 workers — engineers, firemen, trainmen, brakemen and switchmen—are involved in the work rules dispute which started in 1959.

The railroads say the firemen are not needed on diesel locomotives.

Thrill-Killer Free From 5-Year Parole

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois Parole and Pardon Board today ordered thrill-killer Nathan Leopold discharged from his five-year parole.

Chairman Charles F. Kenney said the action was in line with the board's policy to discharge a person after successful completion of the prescribed parole period.

Leopold, 58, was placed on parole March 13, 1958 after serving 33½ years of a sentence of life plus 99 years for the slaying of Bobby Franks, 14, in Chicago 39 years ago. His sentence was reduced in recognition of his work with malaria research during World War II.

Leopold went directly to Puerto Rico upon his release from prison and became a $10-a-week orderly in the Church of the Brethren Hospital at Cataner. He subsequently earned a masters degree in social medicine at the University of Puerto Rico and went to work for the Puerto Rican Health Department. He married Trudi Garcia de Quevedo last year in San Juan.

$21 Million Expansion Set For College at New Paltz

Expansion programs at New Paltz and Cobleskill State Universities could run as high as $26,104,000 — nearly $21,000,000 for New Paltz — between now and the end of 1965, a State University Construction Fund official announced today.

An official at the college here, said proposed cuts in the state budget currently under discussion in the Legislature, are not expected to affect the program.

New Paltz has three projects under construction at a cost of $5,653,000. In the planning stage and expected to be bid this year are 11 projects which will run an estimated $15,335,000, he continued.

Cobleskill has one project under construction at a cost of $786,000. Four more in the planning stage and expected to be bid this year will run $4,330,000, the official said.

Lewis-Dickerson Associates, Outer Washington Street, Watertown, an engineering firm, has been engaged to prepare engineering and aerial surveys of the two campuses.

The Construction Fund official noted that those buildings under construction are expected to be finished by early 1964. He added, "All projects in the planning stage are expected to be completed by late 1965."

A Lewis-Dickerson official explained that work done by his firm includes topographical maps which will be used in future planning. He explained that a geodimeter, a ground-distance measuring device will be used. These ground surveys will be combined wth aerial surveys and will produce an extremely accurate map, he added.

Urges Support For 2 Bills on HumaneSlaughter

A Woodstock resident, Stephanie Godwin, known throughout the area for her concern of domestic animals and pets, urges voters to press for the passage of a humane slaughter bill currently under consideration by the State Legislature.

She notes the two bills regarding this matter are Sen. George E. Paine's Introduction 3106 and Assemblyman William C. Calli's 3457. She asks residents to contact Sen. E. Ogden Bush and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, asking them to vote for the bills. Letters to both should be addressed to The Capitol, Albany.

It is four years since the federal humane slaughter law was passed, and she stressed the great need for such a law in this state. If any of you would spend 15 minutes inside an average packing house where primitive methods are still used, you would come out sickened and appalled by the cruelty, and ready to help put a stop to it, she said.

The men who commit these atrocities are not monsters of cruelty. It is their job. They have no choice. We the voters have the choice. It lies with us to insist through our representatives in the State Legislature that humane slaughter methods be made law, she said.

The humane equipment is simple: The carbon dioxide chamber, mostly for hogs and sheep; the electric stunner; the captive bolt pistol, mostly for cattle; and for Kosher slaughtering, there is the specially designed restraining pen, invented by Cross Brothers, Chicago. These humane methods repay many times their cost in safer working conditions, less wastage of meat, more orderly production, she said.

State Rates for 6 Townships Here

Tentative state equalization rates have been established for six Ulster County townships, it was reported Tuesday by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment.

The towns and rates are:

Esopus 20, one point higher than last year.

Lloyd 21, one point lower, and Ulster 15; Wawarsing 17, and Woodstock 12, all the same as last year.

The tentative rates are based on 1962 assessment rolls.

A hearing on the rates proposed for these townships were scheduled by the Equalization Board for 10 a. m. today in the board's offices, 155 Washington Avenue, Albany.

2 Persons Hurt In Gardiner Crash

Two persons were injured Tuesday as the result of a two-car collision which occurred on the Albany Post Road, also known as Libertyville Road, Town of Gardiner.

Highland State Trooper John Salters said the cars were operated by Joyce Weissert, 31, of 28 Watkins Avenue, Middletown, and Arthur Schoenherr, 47, of New Paltz. The woman suffered lacerations of the mouth and contusions of both hands, and was treated at the New Paltz Medical Center.

Schoenherr was taken to Benedictine Hospital and treated for lacerations of the face and possible chest injuries.

According to Trooper Salters the woman was traveling northerly on the highway when her car failed to negotiate a right curve and slid into the southbound lane where the collision occurred. Salters said investigation of the mishap will be continued.

Asks Troop Pullout

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.N. Secretary-General U Thant has asked Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Republic to pull their troops out of Yemen, Saudi delegate Jamil M. Baroody says.

Backed by the U.A.R., Yemen's regime has been fighting counter-revolutionaries since it deposed the imam last Sept. 26. The royalists have the support of Saudi Arabia and Jordan.

Baroody said Saudi Arabia has no troops or equipment in Yemen but charged the U.A.R. sent 28,000 soldiers there.

Would Scrap Milk Order

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A major dairy organization urged today that the Philadelphia milk-marketing order be scrapped to offset what it called the order's serious price-depressing effect on the New YorkNew Jersey milkshed.

Surplus milk flows into the New York-New Jersey milkshed from the Pennsylvania market, the organization said.

Robert C. Forsythe, manager of the Metropolitan Cooperative Milk Producers Bargaining Agency, proposed that the market-wide pricing pool in effect in the New York-New Jersey market replace the individual handler-pool system in the Philadelphia market.

30,000 Others Homeless

17 Are Dead From Floods, Twisters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Water rationing begins in Harlan, Ky., today as devastating floods and deadly tornadoes left more than 30,000 persons homeless in the South and property damage in the millions.

Seventeen persons were dead and six others missing. Twelve of the deaths were attributed to floods, and five to tornadoes.

A flash flood—one of several caused by torrential rain—knocked out the pumping station at Harlan about noon Tuesday, leaving the city and outlying communities without water.

Civil defense director Bill Haight made arrangements to truck water from fresh wells on a hillside and from a soft drink plant at nearby Baxter if the plant could distill river water for drinking.

Schools were closed in Harlan County and gasoline was limited to emergency vehicles. Many persons were trying to clean up the slime and mud.

The American Red Cross opened disaster headquarters in Huntington, W. Va., to direct work in flood-stricken sections of Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia.

Southeastern area Red Cross workers helped cope with conditions created by widely scattered tornadoes and some flooding in portions of Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee.

The Red Cross said the twisters affected at least 58 families in Mississippi, 510 in Alabama and 472 in Tennessee. The tornado deaths occurred in those states Monday.

Major damage in Kentucky was caused by the flooding Big Sandy, Cumberland and Kentucky rivers. The swirling waters forced more than 25,000 persons to flee their homes.

Lt. Gov. Wilson W. Wyatt asked President Kennedy to designate 20 mountain counties as disaster areas. Helicopters were used to ferry food into isolated communities while refugees were quartered in public buildings, schools, courthouses or moved in with relatives.

Water was four feet deep in the business district of Pikeville but was receding. Big Sandy crested there at 50 feet, 15 feet above flood stage.

A railroad fireman died when a Chesapeake & Ohio coal train slammed into a landslide and then plunged into the river near Pikeville. Another man drowned in Kentucky and a third was missing and presumed drowned.

Five persons died as the result of severe flooding in southern West Virginia. Two of the victims drowned and three others suffered heart attacks while trying to escape the high water.

Gov. W. W. Barron asked the President to declare 11 hard-hit West Virginia counties a disaster area as residents attempted to salvage household possessions.

$52 Million Damage

In mountainous western Virginia, streams spilling over their banks drove nearly 5,000 persons from their homes. Property damage in a nine-county area was estimated at $5.2 million.

A tornado stormed through Tallapoosa County in central Alabama, wrecking buildings, churches and utility lines and causing damage estimated at $50,000.

The twister struck the day after tornadoes roared across a three-state area, killing two persons in Alabama, two in Mississippi and one in Tennessee.

Wet weather, in the form of snow, rain, sleet, showers and fog, covered broad areas from the Rockies into New England.

Snow spread from the central and northern Rockies into the Plains and the northern middle Mississippi Valley. Although heavy amounts hit some areas in Colorado, Wyoming and northern Minnesota, snow tapered off during the night. Light snow also fell in sections of Maine while drizzle and light freezing rain dampened many sections of New England.

Drizzle and fog shrouded many areas in the central part of the country, the Great Lakes region and the Ohio Valley. Skies were cloudy over the Atlantic Coast states.

The princess will visit scenic spots, social welfare institutes and cultural centers in Tokyo, Kyoto and Nagasaki.

Lloyd Action Is Due Tonight on Rezoning Land

Proposals for rezoning an area on new Route 299 to deepen the commercial area for contemplated construction of a new shopping center and a motel, will be acted upon tonight at a meeting of the Lloyd Town Board.

Supervisor John J. Gaffney said today a hearing on two requests for rezoning was held Monday night, and decision was reserved until the Board session tonight.

Route 299 originally was zoned for commercial purposes for a depth of approximately 300 feet, according to Supervisor Gaffney, who said the new shopping center, which would include a 24-lane bowling alley, a skating rink and stores including a nationally known organization, would require a depth of 700 to 800 feet.

Supervisor Gaffney said a group known as "Tarsio and Others" of Newburgh, reportedly has obtained an option on property which ultimately may be purchased from Joseph Zannucci, as a site for the shopping center.

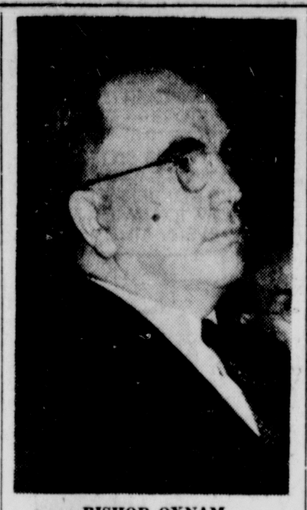
The supervisor said that Michael Anzivina and Anthony Orlando, both of Highland, are interested in the motel project.

Drug Evaluation Expert Appointed To College Post

Dr. Frederick Coulston, 48, editor of two scientific journals and an acknowledged authority in the field of drug safety and evaluation, has been appointed professor of experimental pathology and toxicology at the Albany Medical College of Union University, Dr. Harold C. Wiggers, dean of the college, announced today.

Dr. Coulston resigned his posts at the Sterling-Winthrop Research Institute in Rensselaer to accept the professorshp at the Medical College. He was a senior member of the Institute, serving as director of experimental pathology and toxicology, and as assistant director of the biology division.

Dr. Coulson plans to initiate a research program in drug evaluation. This program will include the study and development of new laboratory techniques for measuring the safety and efficacy of drugs and other chemicals. He will also establish a graduate teaching program in toxicology for physicians and basic medical scientists.



BISHOP OXNAM

Retired Bishop Dies; Was Area Methodist Head

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) — Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, retired Methodist bishop, died Tuesday night.

Bishop Oxnam, who held posts in Washington, New York, Boston and Omaha, was one of the first presidents of the World Council of Churches. He died at the Burke Rehabilitation Foundation here.

Bishop Oxnam also was president of De Pauw University, Greencastle, Ind., prior to his election as bishop in 1936.

Death followed complications from surgery last December, a spokesman for the Methodist church said.

Bishop Oxnam was bishop of the Omaha area from 1936-39; of the Boston area, which includes almost all of New England, from 1939-44; of the New York area from 1944-52, and of the Washington area from 1952 to 1960, when he retired.

Conducted Conclave There

While bishop of the New York Area of the Methodist Church Bishop Oxnam appeared in Kingston a number of times. He conducted the 146th session of the New York Annual Conference at St. James Methodist Church, here in 1945.

From 1948-54 he was one of six presidents of the World Council of Churches.

During the period that he was bishop of the New York area he was president of the former Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, which was incorporated into the present National Council of Churches in 1950.

Bishop Oxnam was born in Sonora, Calif., on Aug. 14, 1891.

Westchester Resident

He had been living at 187 Garth Road in Eastchester in Westchester County.

There will be a service Thursday for his immediate family and a memorial service is planned later, the church spokesman said. Following cremation, his ashes will be buried at Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, Mass.

Surviving are his widow, the former Ruth Fisher, whom he met at the University of Southern California where he was a football player; two sons, Robert F. Oxnam, president of Drew University, Madison, N.J., and former president of Pratt Institute, Brooklyn; and Philip H. Oxnam of Kenwood, N.Y., near Buffalo; a daughter, Mrs. Robert McCormack of Eastchester; and eight grandchildren.

Indications Are

was developed at NIH. In tests on human volunteers, including more than 100 federal prisoners, the vaccine gave indications of protective value.

How did the new strains of virus develop?

No one really knows.

One concept is that such mutations may result partly from a natural adaptation of the virus to some threat to its existence, such as vaccine.

Nature's own radiations — including cosmic rays—may be another factor, scientists say. Radiation from nuclear tests is still another possibility, "although, at present, there is no way to prove this—or disprove it."

Eyes Federation

MANILA (AP)—Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio said today he hopes Malaya, the Philippines and his country will get together soon to discuss the proposed Federation of Malaysia.

The British-backed federation is to include Malaya, Singapore, North Borneo, Sarawak and Brunei. Subandrio said Indonesia opposes it at present because Malaya is hostile to his country.

NEW YORK (AP)—USDA—Butter offerings adequate. Demand fair. Prices unchanged.

Cheese offerings adequate. Demand fair. Prices unchanged.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Tobaccos and motors advanced in a slightly higher stock market early today. Trading was fairly active.

Some of the favored issues rose a point or more but key stocks generally posted fractional gains. Many were unchanged.

The tobaccos resumed their rally which began yesterday following news that the American Medical Association had decided to drop plans for a year-long study of the relationship between disease and the use of tobacco.

Motors perked up as a report came that auto production shows no sign of slowing its fast pace in the second quarter.

Reynolds Tobacco gained well over a point. Lorillard was nearly a point higher. American Tobacco and Liggett & Myers made smaller gains.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Most changes were small.

Corporate bonds were irregular.

Gunfire Hits Train

PARIS (AP)—Machine-gun fire smashed windows on an express train speeding across central France toward Paris Tuesday night. Flying glass injured seven passengers, two seriously.

Police blamed the attack on the anti-De Gaulle Secret Army Organization, although no prominent politicians were known to be aboard the train.

Bring Beneficiary Names to Date, Is Advice for Vets

Changes in a GI insurance policy cannot be made in a last will and testament, veterans in this area were reminded today by Charles Culver, State Veteran Counselor, New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs and John Tyler, county director, Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency.

Policyholders should make certain that the beneficiaries named in their insurance are brought in line with recent changes in their family status.

"An increasing number of cases are showing up in which proceeds of the policy must be paid to someone outside the veteran's immediate family because the veteran failed to keep his beneficiary listing up-to-date," Culver and Tyler said. "In many of the cases, the beneficiaries are the same person the veterans named when they took out their policies years ago, though they have since married and now have families."

Marriages, divorces, births or deaths are the type of changes in family status which may indicate needed changes in beneficiary listings. Changes of beneficiaries can be made at any time without notifying the existing beneficiaries, but changes must be made in writing over the insured's signature and sent to the office servicing the policy.

Veterans who have any questions as to procedure in making a change to conform to their current family status, or who need information and assistance in other matters relating to veteran affairs, were urged to contact Culver or Tyler at their office at 32 Main Street, Kingston, Monday through Friday, 9 to 5.

Economy Is . . .

nearly 4 per cent a year, after making allowances for inflation. "Since mid-1957," he said, "the rate of increase has been limited to 3 per cent."

Unlimited Ceiling Not Aim

Kennedy said the decisions of 1957-1960 "were taken in the name of fiscal responsibility." He said the name was "taken in vain" because the position of the federal budget and the economy deteriorated while the nation's international financial position suffered a major setback reflected in a gold loss of more than $5 billion.

Kennedy said "this administration is not asking for an unlimited budget ceiling" but, rather, one which envisions the debt becoming steadily less burdensome in relation to the size of the economy.

Finally, he said, "we are not asking for an unprecedented tax cut but for a program which will add only $2.7 billion to the next budget deficit" —estimated at $11.9 billion with the first stage of a three-year tax cut included.

"Certainly it is clear," Kennedy added, "that if we slide into another recession, the deficit without a tax cut will be far larger."

Check Short Weights

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Commonwealth is investigating reports that Pennsylvania farmers are being cheated on hay purchased from the west to replace drought-depleted supplies.

"We are checking up on short weights," Agriculture Secretary Leland H. Bull said Tuesday.

Internal Affairs Secretary Genevieve Blatt added:

"I have asked the Bureau of Weights and Measures to investigate these reports immediately."

Bull said complaints of short-weighting in hay purchases stem from farmers who bought truck load lots from itinerant sellers.

Volatile Science Shares May Upset Riviera Plans

Q) "I'm 60 years of age. I intend to retire in five years and spend half of each year on the Italian Riviera. I own 300 Dynamics Corp. of America, 25 Fairchild Camera, 50 Litton, 550 Magnavox, 50 Minneapolis Honeywell, 150 Penick & Ford, 50 Zenith. I would appreciate your comments." R.G.

A) It is very pleasant to hear from a man who has made definite and attractive plans for his retirement and obviously is going to fulfill them.

My main criticism of your list is that it is too strongly represented in science stocks, many of which are very volatile. Because I think the present price level is too high, I advise you to sell your Fairchild Camera, Litton, and Zenith — and re-invest in American Express.

I like Magnavox as a growth situation, but your commitment here is entirely disproportionate. For diversification, I would sell 350 shares of Magnavox and put the proceeds into American Cyanamid and Frito-Lay. And I envy you the Riviera.

Q) "Some time ago, you advised a reader to switch his stock from a balanced fund to the stock fund of the same company. Would you explain the difference between the balanced fund and the stock fund and why you prefer the latter?" H.H.

A) I don't, necessarily.

In the instance to which you refer, the reader needed growth over a period of time, which is more readily attainable through a stock fund than through a balanced fund. The former places its money almost entirely in common stocks, which will push the fund shares up in a strong market. Unfortunately for many stock fund holders, these shares can move down in a bad market, as was clearly demonstrated last year.

A balanced fund is a more stable investment, since normally a substantial proportion of its money is invested in bonds and preferred stocks, which tend to vary little in price. Balanced funds usually trade within a narrow range over a period of time.

Charges 'Terror' In Move Against Tuition for SUNY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Democratic effort to prevent tuition charges at State University schools that have been tuition-free is officially dead, but the funeral was lively.

Senate Republicans dealt the death blow Tuesday by refusing to consider a Democratic bill to repeal a 1961 law that authorized the State University and the New York City Board of Higher Education to establish tuition.

During debate, Sen. Manfred Ohrenstein, Manhattan Democrat, said "a reign of terror" had been instituted to discourage Upstate students from joining an anti-tuition march on Albany earlier this week.

Ohrenstein noted that State Police teams had visited campuses in an effort to estimate the size of the Monday night demonstration. State Police said that was the sole purpose of the visits, but Ohrenstein said the troopers had intimidated the students.

Ohrenstein also declared that officials at State University colleges in Albany and Cortland had tried to dissuade students from participating in the march by contending leftist elements were involved. College officials denied the charge.

Most of the demonstrating students were from New York City. The city has said it would not impose tuition at municipal colleges. The State University has set a basic tuition of $400 a year. There is state financial aid for students in need.

Sen. Earl Brydges, Niagara Falls Republican, said the state policy did not deny education to those in need but, at the same time, would produce revenue to help expand the university.

The Senate action followed refusal of Assembly Republicans to consider the Democratic bill.

Coast Guard Has Film On Rescue Available

A new Coast Guard motion ptcure entitled, "Search & Rescue — AMVER System," is available for public viewing at no cost, it was announced today by Rear Admiral Richard M. Ross, USCG, commander of the Third Coast Guard District.

The 16mm, 28-minute, color-sound movie serves to inform the public on the recent improvements in the search and rescue operations of the Coast Guard through integration of the AMVER (Atlantic Merchant Vessel Report) System.

The film presents a search and rescue incident, utilizing AMVER and its continuous recording of ship's positions and facilities, with subsequent rescue of those involved. The operations of the electronic computer system in predicting the ship's positions are explained through animation. Maps of the area involved are included.

"Search and Rescue—AMVER System," is designed as an information film for ships of all registry and for the general public.

A limited number of copies are available for loan on a first come — first served basis from the Public Information Officer, Third Coast Guard District, U. S. Custom House, New York 4.

Warns on Slums Unless Planning Done at Champlain

MIDDLEBURY, Vt. (AP)—Lack of planning may result in junkyards and slaums in the Lake Champlain basin, a college professor warns.

Frederic O. Sargent, chairman of the University of Vermont agricultural economic department, told a seminar Tuesday that planning was needed to guide trends, including diversification of the tourist industry, urban expansion, industrial growth, and a change from agricultural to non-agricultural use of land.

The seminar was co-sponsored by the agriculture departments of the University of Vermont and Cornell University. The subject was the development of the Lake Champlain basin.

Others participating in the seminar included Dean C. E. Palm of the Cornell College of Agriculture and Paul R. Miller, dean of the UVM agriculture department.

His cynicism is the source of Mack's chronic unemployment as a press agent. Hence he has time to make the newspaper rounds and deliver his acid comments on the Hollywood scene.

Idea Makes Sense

"I see 20th Century-Fox has announced a program to train young executives for a career in the movie business," he said.

"Mmm-huh," I commented.

"Makes sense," he added. "All the other industries do it. Fox has fired all its old executives, the ones whose initials don't start with Z. So why not train some new ones?"

I started typing my expense account.

"I've given this some thought," he continued, "and I think Fox ought to hire me as dean of undergraduates for its new school. I could work out a series of courses that would teach young men everything they need to know to be movie executives.

"For instance:

"Press Relations 3D. Are columnists people? Making a turkey seem like a hit through publicity. How to announce your severance from the studio and make it seem like a promotion.

"Story Conference 145. How to make suggestions to improve the script. How to avoid blame when your suggestions turn out bad.

"Look, Clyde, I've got to get this expense account—"

"I haven't finished," he continued. "I foresee this trend sweeping the other studios. Then we could have inter-studio athletics. Can't you see it? MGM vs. Fox in a gin rummy match in the forecourt of Grauman's Chinese. A croquet grudge match between MCA and Desilu on Sam Goldwyn's lawn.

"Can't you hear the starlets waving their pom-pons and Cheering: 'All the way with MCA?' "

"No, I can't, Clyde," I said and he slunk away muttering, "no imagination left in this town."

$93,000 for River Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Engineers have approved a $93,000 project to clear the Susquehanna River at Oneonta, N.Y.

A starting date depends on the amount of money appropriated by Congress for such projects and priorities fixed by the engineers, the engineers said.

License Application

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Commission received an application Tuesday from WTKO, Ithaca, N.Y., for assignment of a license to Ivy Broadcasting Co.

Conserving Space

Built-in recreation room facilities such as sandwich bars, television sets and storage cabinets leave floors free for games and dancing. When the floors are made of stainproof, waterprof ceramic tile, they minimize the threat of breakage and permit the freedom of action needed in today's "rec" rooms.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

A Great Wartime Leader, But Poor Politician

Five-Year Span Made Churchill One of Greatest Men in History

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Winston Churchill barely made it.

For years he was tormented by the thought he had to make a name for himself early because he expected to die young, like his father.

He didn't die young and by the time he was 65 he was a political failure. If he had died then, in 1939, he would have been at best only a footnote in history.

Despised, Even Hated

He was despised, distrusted and even hated by many in British politics, including many members of his own Conservative party. He had practically no following.

He was recognized as a tremendous and delightful orator. But all through the 1930s, while he urged Britain to arm against Hitler, there were doubts about his judgment.

His judgment had not always been good. He was impulsive, sometimes erratic, and he always had an urge to run the show.

The war came, just as he had warned. He was brought into the Cabinet in 1939. On May 10, 1949, the day Hitler attacked the West, he was made prime minister.

In the next five years—the time it took to win the war—his leadership, and the inspiration he gave both his own people and Britain's allies, made him one of the greatest figures in history.

He is 88 now, and fragile. Congress, anxious to pay him tribute in his lifetime, is about to make him an honorary American citizen, something it has done for no other man. The House approved this Tuesday, the Senate will soon.

Many Reasons for Failure

There were many reasons for Churchill's failure until he was 65. He switched from right to left and back to right; he fought with his own party; and he got mixed up in mistakes and disaster.

He belonged more in the 19th the 20th century when he first entered Parliament in 1901, the year Queen Victoria died after a reign of 64 years. He was a true Victorian.

He was a reactionary, an isolationist, a pacifist, an imperialist (he remained an imperialist into his old age, a boob in economics, without a clear philosophy except for getting ahead.

He lacked understanding of both workers and the poor. He fought against enlarging the army, although the Kaiser's Germany was arming. His vision was so poor he couldn't picture any more large land battles.

He fought with his Conservative party's leadership and got no advancement or recognition. In three years he switched over to the Liberals. His critics said he was an opportunist.

But he became in a hurry a flaming Liberal and in the next few years helped put through a raft of social legislation unprecedented in British history.

'Traitor to Class'

He urged a "soak-the-rich" tax, particularly against the rich land owning dukes, although he had nine dukes in his own family background. Like President Franklin D. Roosevelt later, he was called a "traitor to his class."

Yet, for all practical purposes, by 1911 his Liberal days were over. That year Germany became an obvious menace and Prime Minister David Lloyd George brought Churchill into his Cabinet as first lord of the Admiralty.

But soon after war began in 1914 Churchill plunged into a disaster that was to be thrown at him until the second World War washed out the memory. He spearheaded the Allied attack on the Dardanelles. It failed and cost the British and French over 300,000 casualties.

Strategically, the idea was sound. But it was badly carried out, not only by Churchill but by others. Later a British royal commission put some, but not all, of the blame on him. He was out of the Cabinet after that.

Later he held other high posts. But his days of social crusading were over. He used troops in some great British strikes and this earned him the hatred of labor. He had switched back to the Conservatives by then but many in his own party distrusted him. So did the Liberals. The Laborites' feelings were worse.

Saw German Danger

Nevertheless, all through the 1930s, he was the one who saw clearest the danger from Germany just as he saw better than Roosevelt the danger from communism.

Why was he picked as prime minister in 1940 when he had been repudiated so long?

This is a reasonable answer: Until then he had been out of tune with popular thinking which had become pacifist. When the danger of Hitler became unmistakable—by war—popular thinking and Churchill's thinking became one: total resistance to the Nazis.

No sooner was the war over than the voters threw him out and replaced him with a Labor government. Again why? Churchill, absorbed in the war, had given no thought to peacetime needs. The Laborites did. They had a program. Churchill and his Conservatives had nothing to offer except Churchill's photograph.

After six years of the Laborites, the people in 1951 put Churchill back in power. But he was 77 then. In 1955, when he was 81 and growing feeble, his own Cabinet asked him to step down. He did although he still is in Parliament.

He was a tremendous wartime leader but a poor politician. Roosevelt was much better as a politician. All his life Churchill tried to make people see things his way. Roosevelt waited till a popular mood had formed and then gave it direction.

Master Planning Group Is Named To Serve in 10th

Names of those designated to represent the 10th Ward phase of Neighborhood No. 4 in conjunction with city master planning, were announced today.

The committee is headed by Solly C. Present, of 70 Henry Street, who was named by Tenth Ward Alderman Donald E. Quick.

The members are: Anthony Erena, 73 Cedar Street; Raymond Mayone, 75 Cedar Street; Albert Eisle, 96 Greenkill Avenue; James Howard, 106 Cedar Street; Louis Nardi, 75 Henry Street, and Alderman Quick.

They are studying tentative neighborhood plans and will make recommendations.

High Falls Man Attends Firm's Parley in Spain

Otto H. Scherrieble, High Falls, attended the 10th Inter-Continental Assembly of Texas Refinery Corp., Fort Worth, Texas, the first nine days of March. Scherrieble is an advisor in the Protective Coating Division of the company. The meeting was held in Madrid, Spain.

Flying both ways by jet, Scherrieble left New York with TRC personnel from throughout the U.S., Mexico and Canada. The company hosted some 500 people, including advisors and their wives, special guests, and employes from their offices and factories in Fort Worth, Canada, Mexico and Europe. Three of Madrid's finest hotels were reserved for the nine-day meeting.

Tours outside Madrid included a visit to the Valley of the Fallen, Toledo (the oldest city in Europe), and a Spanish bull farm. Numerous tours were taken inside the City of Madrid.

New Salary Approved

Dutchess County's Board of Supervisors recently approved a $17,000 to $19,000 salary range for county health commissioner effective June 1. The schedule provides for $500 annual increments. The County Board of Health had requested an $18,000 to $20,000 salary range after it received no applications for the position which now pays $15,000. Dr. Lewis Patrie, incumbent commissioner, plans to resign in June.

Mutual Savings Banks Gains Set New Record

NEW YORK — Preliminary data indicate that February deposit gains in mutual savings banks have set a new record for the month. The National Association of Mutual Savings Banks reported today that increases in regular accounts in the 512 savings banks are expected to reach $200 million, substantially higher than the previous February record of $149 million, set in 1962.

Dr. Grover W. Ensley, executive vice president of the National Association, said that generally the rise was a continuation of high 1962 savings flows, which set a record for the industry last year.

The estimated deposit gain, based on a sampling of savings banks in 14 states representing more than half of industry deposits, would bring total deposits to $41.8 billion at the end of February. This compares with a total of $38.6 billion a year ago.

Conducts Workshop In Kingston Library

Miss Marthe Dykes, children's consultant from Mid-Hudson Libraries in Poughkeepsie recently conducted a workshop in the children's room of Kingston City Library. The discussion was on the various services for children's libraries.

Ten librarians from the area attended. Kingston, Saugerties, Town of Ulster, West Hurley and Stone Ridge were among the libraries represented.

Workshops are being held in various areas to help broaden the scope of children's services.

Moose Will Make Plans Tonight For State Parley

An important meeting is scheduled tonight for all officers and members of Kingston Lodge 970, Loyal Order of Moose, and the Women of the Moose, Chapter 697.

The session has been called to make plans for the mid-year conference of the New York State Moose Association which will bring men and women of the Moose organization here from all parts of New York State.

Dates of the conference are May 3, 4 and 5.

Tonight's meeting is to start at 8 o'clock in the Moose lodge hall, 82 Prince Street.

Why We Say--

JUST ADDED: An informal name may be referred to as a nickname. The word has a simple derivation. Long ago it was "ekename." The "eke" simply meant "added" because the informal name was added to the regular name of the person. In Middle English the "ekename" absorbed the "n" from "an" and gave way to the word nickname.

Glenn to Address AP News Meeting On Space Program

NEW YORK (AP)—Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., first American to orbit the earth, will be the principal speaker at The Associated Press annual luncheon on April 22.

Paul Miller, president of The Associated Press and head of the Gannett group of newspapers, made the announcement Tuesday. He said Glenn would discuss the space program of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the meaning of the program to the future of the United States.

Approximately 1,500 editors and publishers from the United States and Canada and guests are expected to attend the luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The Associated Press meeting and luncheon will inaugurate a week of meetings of newspaper executives, including the annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

Takes to Captivity

Native habitat of the ploar bear is the ice-covered Arctic region, but the animal takes to captivity quite well and can be kept in zoos while some animals from more temperate climates cannot.

Seems that everybody wants to drive our station wagon.

Why? Is it the three 5-foot seats?
They hold the regular driver plus 9 junior drivers.
Or 7 more adults.
Is it because the back seats are removable? Or because the side doors open 4 feet wide?
Slide a seat out and you can slide in a made-up crib.
Take both seats out and you've got room for a full-length bed.
Is it because the Volkswagen gives you more usable space than the biggest conventional wagon, and yet is a good 4 feet shorter?
It fits neatly into parking spots the big boys have to pass by.
Is it the legendary Volkswagen mileage? The rear-engine traction?
Is it the sunroof?
It's also a moonroof.
A rainroof, too. When the sky looks threatening, just slide the roof shut. It's windproof. Waterproof.
Is it the 23 windows to look out of?
Your guess is as good as ours.
Why not come in and see why. For yourself.

A lady paused to comfort a weeping little girl, and ended her arguments against crying by saying.

Lady — And, besides, crying makes little girls grow up ugly.

The child looked at the lady through her tears and said,

Little Girl—Well, gee, lady, you sure must've cried a lot when you were a kid!

Jaycees to Hold Annual Egg Hunt Sunday, April 7

Members of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce are making plans for their annual Easter Egg Hunt to be held at Forsyth Park April 7 at 2 p. m.

The event will feature more than 2,000 chocolate cream eggs hidden throughout the park for area youngsters to find. The children will be divided into three age groups; under 5, 5 and 6, 7 and 8 with awards for the winners of each group. In case of rain, the hunt will be held April 21.

Chairman for this year's activity is Robert Brown, assisted by Emil Buhler, Thomas Bannon, Lawrence Adin, Chester Diffley, Howard Holmes, Thomas Glynn and Frank McMahon.

Ulster Library Movie Benefit Set Saturday

Town of Ulster Library will show a benefit movie, "The Wistful Widow of Wagon Gap," a comedy featuring Abbott and Costello and Marjorie Main at Chambers School Auditorium, Saturday at 1:00 p. m.

The nominally priced tickets can be purchased at the door. Short subjects and cartoons will also be on the program. The public is invited to attend and support this movie showing for the benefit of the Town Library.

Tax Information

Taxpayers reporting income from interest and dividends should complete Schedule B, Form 1040 and should also make sure this schedule is securely attached to the Form 1940.

Albany District Director Edward J. Fitzgerald Jr. pointed out that a refund will be delayed if Schedule B is not received with the return.

Nine Men Inducted

Nine men were inducted into the U.S. Army March 7 by local draft boards and were forwarded to the reception center at Fort Dix, N. J. They are: Robert M. Chambers, Mt. Zion Road, Marlboro; Michael J. Celuch, RD 1, Box 31, Kingston; Terry L. Grant, Allaben; Eugene F. Gibbons, Route 5, Box 52-B, Kingston; Theodore M. Baker, Mt. Zion Road, Marlboro; Raymond L. Lasher, Box 549, Glasco; Robert R. Brooks, RD 3, Box 69, Saugerties; James H. Mergendahl Jr., 23 Village Drive, Saugerties, and Donald L. Hines, 24 Barclay Heights, Saugerties.

Succession Law

The presidential succession law provides that if both the president and vice president of the United States died, the speaker of the House of Representatives and then the president pro tempore of the Senate shall be next in line of succession.

Lake Katrine 1065

The regular meeting was held at the grange hall on March 4 with 27 members in attendance. Worthy Master Charles Bahruth, who presided announced the following dartball schedule: March 8, Highland vs Lake Katrine at Lake Katrine. March 22, Lake Katrine vs Highland at Highland. Worthy lecturer's program was based on the topic of spring cleanup around the house and painting. He spoke about inside and outside house decoration and painting, including proper preparation of surfaces to be painted, the use of rubber-base paint, painting farm machinery, and choice of color emphasizing the point that the kitchen of the home should be bright and cheery. The worthy lecturer plans to give more painting information at the next meeting March 18. Elizabeth Jones won second prize in the Ulster County gingerbread contest.

Highland 888

Master Joseph Bowman presided at the regular meeting of Highland Grange on March 5. There were 31 members present. Mabel Kaisor, service and hospitality chairman told about the Grange National Sewing Contest. Agnes Wolf, lecturer, received a letter from state lecturer about the Grange talent contest and also prince and princess contest. The worthy lecturer presented the following program. Readings by William G. Ronk and Mrs. Mabel Schoonmaker; quiz game, Nellie Mulligan, first and Clarence Ronk, second.

Another game with Mrs. Emma Terwilliger at the piano was won by Mrs. Elizabeth Sleezer and Lee McCrory.

The following schedule of events were announced by the worthy master: Mt. Tremper Grange will visit at Highland on March 15 for a dartball game. Refreshment committee for the next meeting, March 19 will be Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dohrman, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Dohrman, William Gruner, Mrs. Anna Mae Miller, Mrs. Mabel Kisor, Mrs. Louis Gruner and Mrs. Harriet Elliott. On April 6 a spaghetti supper and square dance will be held at the grange hall. Supper will be served 6 p. m. until 8 p. m. The square dance will follow. Mrs. Kisor will be in charge of the supper.

County Youth Groups

Ulster County Grange Youth held a toboggan party on Sunday at Mohonk Golf Course. They left from Huguenot Grange Hall, New Paltz.

Stone Ridge

The meeting was held at the Grange Hall March 4 with Wilford Neff in charge. He announced that the card party held at his home on February 23 was both a success socially and financially with 15 tables present. The chairman of the next card party has announced that it will be held at the Grange Hall March 23 at 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served. The public is invited.

Ulster 969

The regular meeting was held March 6 with Worthy Overseer George Winslow presiding. Visitors present were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nace of Highland Grange. The charter draping ceremony was observed for the late departed Worthy Master Clarence Freer. Final plans are being made for the 60th anniversary dinner to be held in Port Ewen Reformed Church Hall, March 16 at 6:30 p. m. Guest speaker will be Mrs. W. James Francisco, New York State Grange lecturer. A literary program was presented by Lecturer Georgiana White. Her theme was Our Grange History. Several candidates will receive the First and Second Degrees at Plattekill Grange. All Grange members throughout the county are invited to attend.

Lake Katrine 1065

The Life of Kingston in pictures will be shown Monday, March 18, at Lake Katrine Grange Hall, Leggs Mills Road. The public is invited.

Spanish Moss

Gray Spanish moss, seen gracefully swaying from cypress trees in picturesque Caribbean gardens, is not Spanish, is not moss, is not a parasite and is not worthless. Once widely used in bridles, saddle blankets and horse collars, today it is used for furniture padding, air-conditioning filters and other items. It is vermin-proof.

To All JONES DAIRY Retail Customers:

Undoubtedly you have noticed that all prices for citrus juice products now cost you more. These price increases have been caused by a very serious freeze in Florida, which has drastically reduced supply.

However, there is no reason why these price increases need to affect you or your food budget because through cooperation of SUNKIST GROWERS who have licensed us to serve you with SUNKIST ORANGE JUICE DRINK, our price for this excellent juice product is unchanged.

YOU CAN STILL BUY QUARTS FOR ONLY 25c

Remember, Sunkist is the only juice product to give you a natural Vitamin C guarantee—just one-half pint serving supplies the minimum daily requirements for a growing child—your assurance of health value for your family—at no increase in price.

May we start delivery today? Call us now at FE 1-1484.

This wonderful product also available at our dairy store, 95 Cornell Street.

Yours truly,
JONES DAIRY

Plattekill

PLATTEKILL—The son born Thursday, Feb. 28, to the Rev. and Mrs. Carl O. Hartman, has been named Peter Shea Hartman. Mrs. Hartman and son have returned from St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, to their home in the Methodist parsonage here.

Twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Campbell were baptized last Sunday at Our Lady of Fatima Chapel in Plattekill by the Rev. Anthony Segrera, pastor. Mr. Campbell is stationed with the U. S. Army at Fort Devens, Mass., and is a former local resident.

The first and second degrees of initiation were conferred on a class of candidates seeking membership in the Plattekill Subordinate Grange at a meeting conducted in the Grange Hall Saturday evening. The ladies degree team of the local Grange were directed by Mrs. Burton Van Aken and Miss Arlene Bernard. Tableaux were directed by Mrs. Linwood Underhill. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett were chairmen of the refreshment committee. Plans were completed for the fourth in a series of card parties to be held at the hall Friday 8 p. m. Ralph Grismer is chairman of the ticket committee for the annual fish and chips supper to be served in the Grange Hall Saturday from 5 to 8 p. m.

Farmers Pass Up Valuable Social Security Credits

Many farmers in the Ulster and Greene County area are passing up valuable social security credits, according to George J. Habernig, social security district manager in Kingston.

"In examining the tax returns of farmers applying for benefits," Habernig said, "we find ample evidence that the majority of small farm operators are not aware of the special reporting provisions which benefit self-employed farmers." He explained that all other self employed persons must report their actual net profit for social security purposes, and the net profit must amount to at least $400 yearly for them to get social security credits. However, a self-employed farmer can actually lose money from his farm operation in a given year and still get social security credit by using an optional reporting method. Under the optional method, if a farmer's gross income is at least $600, he can report 2/3 of his gross income and get social security for up to $1,200 earnings. If a farmer's actual net profit amounts to more than $1,200, he reports the actual net earnings.

In setting up the optional reporting provision in the social security law, Congress recognized that farmers have problems not generally encountered by other businessmen. Profits and losses are more likely to fluctuate widely from year to year in farming. If the option were not available, the low earnings years would result in low retirement benefits for many farmers and others would reach retirement age without having earned enough social security credits to qualify for benefits.

Habernig urged self employed farmers to check their social security status at the nearest district office of the Social Security Administration. The Kingston office is located at 57 Albany Avenue.

FRENCH FUSE—France reportedly will explode its first thermonuclear device in the Pacific Ocean by the middle of 1964. It will be a "baby" nuclear device, halfway between an atomic bomb and the more powerful hydrogen bomb. Site of the test will be Mangareva Island in the Gambier Islands group, 1,500 miles southeast of Hawaii and about the same distance from the coast of South America.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans are spending more than ever. But you couldn't tell it from the jobless figures.

Some industries are increasing output. Others are announcing plans for greatly increased spending for modernization and new plants. But the number of new jobs won't increase automatically as it once would.

Dreary, Bright Aspects

This is one of the dreariest aspects of the final days of winter.

A brighter one, the spending figure, comes from retail sales statistics for February. At $20.3 billion, this set a record high for any month. Americans spent 7 per cent more than a year ago for goods from the stores, even though the rise from January was a slight 0.2 per cent. The monthly figure, seasonally adjusted, has been above $20 billion since November.

Durable goods sales is put at $6.5 billion in February, an 8 per cent gain over the like 1962 month. Nondurable goods sales at $13.8 billion is a 6 per cent increase.

Helping the rise in February was the growing inclination of Americans to buy more on time. Outstanding instalment credit has been gaining at an average rate of $500 million a month for some time. The total is approaching the $49-billion mark. Much of the increase in recent months is linked to the high total of auto sales.

Total industrial production has remained slightly below the late fall peak. But some industries are increasing output, notably steel.

For six weeks running, mills have turned out more tonnage than the preceding period. That is the longest climb in 18 months. It has pushed production to an estimated 70 per cent of capacity.

No Joy To Jobless

Some steel mills have fired up once idled furnaces. A few shut plants have started up again. Some new facilities are coming into use. This has led to recall of some laidoff steel workers, and in a few cases to hiring new men.

But through industry as a whole, the prospects are less rosy for the jobless. Many manufacturers can speed up production with the same number of workers they now have.

Any spring spurt in total industrial production may well be accomplished without the hiring which accompanied such increases in the days before automation was so widespread.

And all the time the labor force is increasing. The population explosion of the 1940s is bringing, year by year, more young men and women to the ranks of the job seekers.

Times can look mighty prosperous if you study the production and sales figures. They can look much different if you concentrate on the rising percentage of the labor force out of work.

False-Card Pays, Wins Contract

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

My partner's jump to three no-trump was eminently correct. He only had nine high card points, but his fifth club represented a probable trick and could be counted as the equivalent of at least one high card point.

That does not mean that our three no-trump contract was sound, but every bridge player has made much worse contracts on occasion.

West had a natural heart opening and at this point I could count 11 tricks provided the club finesse succeeded. Suppose the club finesse didn't work? West would be in the lead. He might say to himself, "Maybe Jacoby doesn't have a diamond stopper." If West followed up by leading a diamond I would have to lose at least four diamond tricks and my contract.

I saw that I had a fairly easy way to insure that West wouldn't shift away from the heart suit.

All I did was to win the heart with my ace. Then I led a spade to dummy and tried the club finesse. It lost all right, but West immediately led his deuce of hearts.

No one can blame West. His partner's play of the pack and my play of the ace had clearly marked East with the queen. It was just too bad I had false-carded.

To forestall criticism I may point out that if West could have looked into my hand and actually led a diamond my false-card would have put me down six, but I had to take that little gamble.

When a recipe calls for two cups of flaked cooked fish, buy a pound of raw fish and you'll have about the right amount after it is cooked.

Local Man Receives Newspaper Grant for Journalism Studies

Richard S. Noble, a junior at Harpur College, has received a $500 summer internship from the Newspaper Fund, Inc.

In order to receive the $500 Mr. Noble must find a summer job with a newspaper. The Fund has supplied him with a list of newspapers who have indicated an interest in participating in the program.

The internships are designed particularly for the young man in a college where he has little opportunity to receive extensive journalism education.

Mr. Noble has been managing editor of the Colonial News, the student newspaper at the liberal arts college of State University of New York.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Noble, of 167 Green Street, Kingston.

AN OVERCROWDED CHURCH

Q: A friend of the family was recently married and my husband and I were invited to the wedding and reception. On the day of the wedding, which happened to be a dreary, rainy Sunday, we dressed and drove 15 miles to attend the ceremony. We arrived about 10 minutes before the time set for the wedding only to find the church filled to capacity. We were both very much annoyed at having to stand and my husband was all for leaving right then and there. Are we right in feeling that it was very improper for the bride's family to send out more invitations than the church could seat?

A: It is not unusual to invite more people to the church than it can seat because rarely are all those invited able to come to the wedding. In the situation you describe, the bride's parents evidently misjudged the proportion of those who would come.

Ending a Telephone Conversation

Q: Is it proper for friends or relatives whom you see often, to say, "Thank you for calling" when ending a telephone conversation? It sounds so cold and formal to me. I always thought this phrase was mainly used when speaking to people one does not know well or when one has called to give you some information. I generally say, "I'm so glad you called" or "It was nice talking to you" or some such phrase. What is your opinion on this?

A: You are quite right. "Thank you for calling" should really be said only when someone has telephoned to give you some information or news.

Jewelry With Slacks and Sweater

Q: Is it proper and in good taste to wear any type of jewelry with slacks and a sweater?

20th Anniversary of B'nai B'rith Women Honors Charter Members, Past Presidents

Charter members and past presidents were given tributes at the B'nai B'rith Women's 20th anniversary party and meeting held last week at Temple Emanuel.

Entertaining the members and guests were the B'nai B'rith Players who presented a musical play. A candlelighting ceremony capped the festivities which were followed by special refreshments.

Mrs. Robert A. Ronder, president, greeted the honored guests. She also announced that a board meeting is slated for Thursday, March 21 at the home of Mrs. Charles Ronder. The next general meeting is planned for Wednesday March 27, and will highlight vocational guidance. Also on the calendar of coming events is a rummage sale which will take place April 1 through 3.

Charter members honored included the Mmes. Paul Black, Herbert Bloom, Sol Dubin, Herman Eaton, Milton Friedman, Harry Gold, Sam Gold, Abraham Goldfarb, Jean Kames, Raphael Klein, Joseph Levine, Irving Levine, Morton Levine, Rae Levine, Harold Mandel, Helen J. Miller, Morris Monashefsky.

Also the Mmes. Frances Novig, Gladys F. Rosenthal, Sigmund Rudisch, Harry Schwartz, Bernard Singer, Dora Sobsey, Sophie Speiser, Herman Svirsky, Julius Svirsky, Julia Werner, David Zucker, Louis Spinner, Sidney Halpern, Frank Cohen, Jacob Gasool and the Misses Esther Goldman, Dorothy Shapiro and Rae Weiner.

The first chapter meeting was held Feb. 16, 1943, at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Past presidents who were thanked for their B'nai B'rith service included the Mmes. Julius Svirsky, Morris Monashefsky, Harold Mandel, Sam Mann, Harry Gold, Flo Powell, Samuel Gally, Paul Mezer, Leon Miller, Harry Spiegel, Arnold Pinsly, Merrill Stone, Max Goldberg, Robert Ronder and Miss Blanche Kirschenblum.

Hostesses for the evening were the Mmes. Stanley Kaplan, Lewis Neporent and Harold Beller. Aiding in the preparation of refreshments were the Mmes. Carl Lipton, Seymour Semilof and Norman Serinsky.

The program co-chairmen, the Mmes. Willard Goodheim, Harvey Kronick and Kenneth Barnes, were in charge of entertainment, which featured the Mmes. John Levy, Stanley London, Charles Ronder, Arthur Landesman, Harold Beller, Fred Strauss, Kenneth Barnes, Harvey Kronick, Harvey Marcus, Irwin Gellen, Carl Lipton, Albert Spiegel and Willard Goodheim. Special thanks was given to Mrs. Meyer Weiner who stepped in at the last minute to provide the musical accompaniment.

Mrs. Arnold Pinsly, head of the nominating committee, presented the slate suggested by the Mmes. Stanley Kaplan, Stanley Caple, Sidney Halpern, Walter Suskind and Miss Blanche Kirschenblum.

It includes: president, Mrs. Irwin Gellen; vice presidents, Mrs. William Helmrich and Mrs. Jerry Cohen; recording secretary, Mrs. Stanley Kohnberg; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edwin Kalish; financial secretary, Mrs. Irving Alcon; treasurer, Mrs. Morton Levine; counselor, Mrs. Robert Ronder; trustee for three years, Mrs. Charles Ronder; for two years, Mrs. Ross Ellis; one year, Mrs. Max Millens.

The slate will be voted upon at the next general meeting, March 27, at which time additional nominations may be presented from the floor.

Saugerties Group Hears Narration By Miss Hommell

The terrors of Sybil Ludington's Revolutionary ride through Dutchess County plus humorous kindergarten anecdotes concerning Easter eggs and the musical band were dramatized by Miss Pauline Hommell, Saugerties Historian, Sunday afternoon during a tea sponsored by St. Mary of the Snow Rosary Society in the school cafeteria.

Miss Hommel told of the mill daughter's patriotic venture to warn the colonists of the impending British battle and rousing of isolated farmers to help defend their country. On the lighter side, the author of "Teacup Tales" and "Class Dismissed" amused the audience by reading the misadventures of the five-year-old set in bringing home decorated eggs which harassed parents had to "blow out" and the trials of tuning up a "band."

The retired school teacher was presented with a dozen long stemmed red roses by the Rosary president Mrs. Carolyn Parenti. Mrs. Parenti and past president Mrs. Jean Seither poured tea and coffee for approximately 70 guests.

The chairman was Mrs. Mathilde Fitzpatrick and her committee included the Mmes. Erlene Leszko, Gerry Martin, Ceil Bosse, Ann Morrier, Pat Kartheiser, Rita Connor, Germaine Hein, Joan Bannon and Joan Staudacher.

Mrs. Robert S. Yallum presided. Announcement was made of the Lower New York State regional spring conference to be held in Liberty May 6-8, and of a two-session speakers' training course to be held in Nanuet March 21 and April 25. Those interested in attending should contact Mrs. Yallum.

Members were reminded that the "New and Nearly New" shop will be open April 22-26 with the Mmes. Robert Davis and Carl Bernstein in charge. Volunteers are needed to work throughout the week; those who can aid should contact Mrs. Bernstein.

Appointment of a nominating committee was made, with Mrs. Herbert Gertner as chairman, aided by Mmes. Murray Fletcher, Arthur London, David Kline and Walter Suskind. The committee will report to the membership at its April 2 meeting.

The chapter will offer two partial camperships to Camp Tel Yehudah, a senior Judaea camp; eligible are girls ages 14-18. Those interested in applying should write a letter, telling why they want to attend Tel Yehudah, and sent it to Mrs. Robert A. Ronder, 41 Thomas Street, R.D. 5, Kingston.

Mrs. Robert Nadler, chairman of a special Hadassah Medical Organization benefit which was completed at Monday's meeting, reported on the successful project.

The next HMO project is the annual advertising page, with ads to be sold for the next six weeks. The page will be published in The Freeman May 25. Mrs. Sherman Kent is chairman; those interested in working on the project should contact the chairman.

Mrs. Sidney Halpern, chairman, described the annual "Eye Bank Day" project, with Hadassah members manning the business corners of the city to raise funds to fight trachoma, a dread eye disease prevalent in the Middle East. Those who can work Wednesday, May 15, should contact Mrs. Halpern or her co-chairman, Mrs. Sheldon Levy.

The HMO projects culminate in a gala "Donor Day" at the Nevele. Mrs. Arthur Motzkin, chairman, reported on plans for the day and urged members to become Hadassah Donors and be Hadassah's guests for the event.

Mrs. Robert Ronder reported on the progress of the Jewish National Fund. All workers are urged to complete their lists and turn in receipts to Mrs. Ronder or her co-chairman, Mrs. Edward Weissman.

Those 25-year members unable to attend Monday's meeting include the Mmes. N. A. Aaron, Louis Alcon, Pearl Adin, Cople Barnovitz, Jeannette Barnovitz, Samuel Beck, Paul Black, Herbert Bloom, Harris Brown, Frank Cohen, Alfred Davis, Solomon Dubin, Jack Epstein, Joseph Epstein, Arthur Ewig, George Farber, Harry Feldman, Nathan Feldman, Samuel Feldman, Milton Friedman, David Frishberg, Miss Esther Goldman, Samuel Gold, Sam Goldberg, Abe Goldfarb, Saul Goldfarb, Nathaniel Gross, Abram Handler, Joseph Honig, Harry Jacobs, Isaac Jacobson, Sam Jacobson, Joseph Jacobson, Harry Kaplan, Raphael Klein, George Kramer, Jacob Kreppel, Robert Kreines, Rae Levine, Rose Levine, Meyer Levy, Oscar London, Harry Lurie and Miss Lillian Leventhal.

Others are Miss Ruby Marksson and the Mmes. Harold Mandell, Sam Mann, George Margolis, Jacob Margolis, Mason Millens, Max Millens, Morris Miller, Haskell Naigles, Henrietta Nathan, David Navy, Morris Newman, Isadore Parnett, Jacob Parnett, Nathan Parnett, Joseph Pauker, Herbert Powell, H. Vassar Music Professor Will Have His Music Premiered in Kingston; Talk Is Scheduled

ROBERT MIDDLETON

The first performance in Kingston of a new composition by Robert Middleton, associate professor of music at Vassar College, will be given by the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Orchestra on Monday, March 18. The new work, entitled "Concerto di Quattro Duetti," was especially written for the Hudson Valley Philharmonic last summer. It has four movements, each featuring a pair of wind instruments with a background of strings. The wind parts are for piccolo, flute, clarinet, bass clarinet, oboe, English horn, bassoon and contrabassoon.

The concert will be given in Community Theatre at 8:30 p. m.

Mr. Middleton's opera "Command Performance" was performed in November 1961 as part of the Vassar College Centennial. He recently played the first performance of his set of piano pieces "Inventions on The Twelve Notes" at the Composers' Forum in New York City.

Mr. Middleton, who teaches theory and composition at Vassar College, studied with Walter Piston at Harvard, and with Nadia Boulanger in Paris on a John Knowles Paine Travelling Fellowship.

He has received a commission to write a new opera, one hour in length, for television. The libretto for this opera will be by James Yaffe, novelist and playwright, whose adaptation of Duerrenmatt's "The Deadly Game" ran on Broadway several seasons ago. The new opera is to be a comedy.

The work will be repeated March 18 at the concert at Kingston.

Mr. Middleton is scheduled to speak at a special supper hour on Monday, March 18 at the YWCA. The supper is planned for 6:30. Mr. Middleton will speak after the supper hour.

DOUGLAS S. KENNEDY

Accepted by Delhi; Will Join Freshman Class in September

Douglas S. Kennedy of 79 Clifton Avenue, Kingston, has been accepted for admission in September to State University Agricultural and Technical Institute at Delhi. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Kennedy, he will study Construction Technology.

Delhi Tech, a two-year college of the State University of New York, has recently entered a period of expansion unprecedented in its 49-year history. By 1968, State University plans to invest $17,500,000 in improvements to the Delhi campus. During that time, the college's enrollment is expected to increase from its present level of 620 to more than 1,000 students.

Legion Will Sponsor St. Patrick's Party

Kingston Post 150, American Legion, will hold a St. Patrick's Day party for all Legion members Saturday evening at the Post Home, 18 West O'Reilly Street. Indications are that a large crowd of Legionnaires and their friends plan to attend.

All Legionnaires, their wives and friends are invited. Tickets may be reserved by calling the Post Home.

A full complement of refreshments will be served and there will be dancing and music all evening.

Friday Is Deadline Here For Sisterhood Cookbook

Deadline for recipes to be included in a cookbook being compiled by the Sisterhood of Agudas Achim is March 15. Members may contact Mrs. Sidney Black, 32 Janet Street or Mrs. Irving Levine, 56 Pierpont Street with recipes to be included in the book which is scheduled to go to press soon.

Saugerties Girl Takes First Vows; Sisters of Charity

Sister Jean Carmel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Iannone of 97 Partition Street, Saugerties, is listed among those who took their first vows on Monday, March 11 in New York City.

His Excellency Most Rev. John J. Maguire, D.D., VG., auxiliary bishop of New York, presided at the ceremony of profession of vows of the Sisters of Charity of New York in the Chapel of the Immaculate Conception in the Motherhouse, Riverdale, New York City.

Thirty sisters pronounced their first vows and 39 their perpetual vows, Mother Loretto Bernard, Mother General of the Sisters, received each sister's vows individually. Following the profession, Bishop Maguire celebrated a votive Mass on the Day of Profession, during which the young professed and their relatives received Holy Communion. The bishop was assisted by Reverend Casper G. Wolf of the staff of Cardinal Hayes High School, New York City, uncle of Sister Maureen Madeleine; and Reverend Benedict McDermott, O.S.B., of Benedict High School, Richmond, Virginia, brother of Sister Kevin Maureen. The Right Reverend John M. Brew was master of ceremonies and the Very Reverend Monsignor Francis X. Duffy, director of St. Patrick's Information Center, preached the sermon. Over two hundred monsignori, priests and religious, and more than 300 relatives and friends attended the ceremonies.

Hospital Auxiliary To Send Delegates To Spring Meetings

The Benedictine Hospital Auxiliary will give its annual spring dance at the Governor Clinton Hotel on April 20, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Leo Kilcoyne, chairman, at a regular meeting of the group on Wednesday, March 6. Co-chairman of the dance, to be called "Sparkling Rhythm," is Mrs. Richard Terlingen.

Mrs. Robert Flanagan was welcomed as a new member.

Officer and committee reports indicated record progress for the month of February.

Mrs. Joseph Robertson, auxiliaary president, announced an invitation has been received to send delegates to the annual Middle Atlantic Hospital Conference to be held in Atlantic City, N. J., on May 22-24. Two delegates will attend. Their names will be announced.

The auxiliary also received an invitation to the Southeastern Regional meeting, April 24, at the Hilton Inn in Tarrytown. The auxiliary voted to send Mrs. Joseph Robertson, president, and Mrs. John Ryan, chairman of volunteers.

Mrs. Patrick Cannon, hospitality chairman, displayed favors to be placed on hospital trays for St. Patrick's day.

A program on planting for spring was given by Herbert H. Cutler, landscape architect.

Hostesses for the evening were the Mmes. John Ryan, Maynard Burroughs, Edward Salantrie and John Finch.

The next business meeting will be held on April 3.

Black Dubin Chapter Sets Benefit Party

The Kingston Black Dubin Chapter of AZA will hold a party for the benefit of the International Service Fund Saturday, March 16 at the home of Mike Shienvold.

There will be a small admission fee. Any member of AZA, BBG, NFTY and USY may attend.

International Service Fund is a charity sponsored by B'nai B'rith. It aids Israeli refugees, hospitals for physical therapy and treatment of upper respiratory defects.

It was also decided to hold a bus trip to New York City Wednesday, April 17. Those interested may contact Ben Levine or Manes Schanzer.

AZA is a non-profit organization sponsored by B'nai B'rith and associated with the B'nai B'rith Youth Organization.

Sullivan Notes Classroom Problems Confronting OCS

Answering the question "What is our problem?" with respect to the classroom situation within the Onteora Central Schools District, Superintendent of Schools Dr. George R. Sullivan notes that when school opened on Sept. 6, 1962, there were 106 more elementary pupils and 74 more high school pupils than the previous year.

Speaking in support of the upcoming $1,977,000 building construction bond issue, the superintendent pointed out that 936 children are attending school this year on half day schedules.

Other salient items noted by Superintendent Sullivan are

Next year (1963-64) children in Grades 1 through 5 will be attending school on half-day sessions.

The loss of instruction time for children on half-day sessions is equal to 60 full days of instruction in one school year.

To house the present elementary children in the district, 28 new elementary classrooms are needed today.

Three Rooms Annually

The current elementary growth will require the equivalent of 3 new classrooms each year. The present capacity is 820; the present enrollment is almost 1500.

Sullivan said 125 children are attending classes in emergency buildings which must be approved each year. Next year these emergency buildings will receive double use with half-day sessions.

The cost of rent and operation of these emergency buildings will be $14,179 for the 1962-63 school year, Dr. Sullivan said.

Transportation costs increased $20,000 as a result of double sessions this year and will increase another $30,000, primarily because of half-day sessions, he said.

A close look at each of the present elementary buildings makes the current educational scene even more dismal.

Well Over Capacity

The Bennett building holds 320 children. There are now 306 children from Olive and 275 children from Shandaken, with no place to go but the Bennett building. There are also 120 children from Woodstock and Hurley assigned to the Bennett building and its emergency annexes. A total of 701 children need space in the western part of the district, but the district currently has room for only 320.

The picture is just as bad in West Hurley — 114 over capacity.

The elementary enrollment projected from 1962-1970 shows a steady increase in elementary children, says Dr. Sullivan.

By 1967-68, even with all of the new construction proposed, the Onteora district will need to begin building even more elementary classrooms, he concludes.

Pledge Sunday For Methodists

Pledge Sunday for the New York Conference Development Crusade will be observed with the receiving and dedication of pledges made by the members of the Overlook Methodist Church.

The Rev. James W. Cook, minister, will preach on the topic: "The Second Mile." Pledges are to be made for a three-year period, beginning April 1. The funds received in the Crusade will be for projects to be carried out within the New York Conference. These include the Conference Camps at Epworth and Kingswood, Church Extension, Student Work in Colleges, Scholarships for Christian Vocations and Stewardship Development.

This crusade marks a turning point in New York Methodism and to the witness shared by all Christians in this time of anxiety about man's existence. Each church within the Conference has been given an opportunity to accept its fair share of the $1.5 million to be raised. At the Fourth Quarterly Conference of Overlook Church, the officials of the church voted unanimously to accept the church's Fair Share.

Week's Calendar

Sunday Worship is at 11 a. m. at the Overlook Church. A nursery is provided. Sunday School is at 9:45 a. m. and 10:45 a. m. Junior Methodist Youth Fellowship at 5 p. m.; Senior MYF at 6 p. m.

Union Lenten Service at the Woodstock Reformed Church at 8:30 p. m.

The missions study course, "On Asia's Rim" will be taught Monday at 7:30 p. m.

Junior choir meets Thursday at 6:45 p. m., Senior choir at 7:30 p. m.

Jewish Spirit Survives All Through the Ages

During these days Jews all over the world celebrate the feast of Purim in remembrance of the liberation from the tyrant Haman. Jew baiters' names, peculiarly enough, often start with the capital "H" from Haman down through the ages to Hitler, Himmler and Heydrich. And substituting "H" for the initial "N" in the name of Egypt's Nasser would make sense since "Hasser" means "hater" in German.

History, often mentioning the Seven Wonders of the World, refers to monuments of ancient times. True, that the Pyramids of Egypt or the Temple of Artemis at Ephesus are, or were, remarkable, coming close to what one may call a wonder of the world, a miracle of construction.

The Colossus of Rhodes is buried by the sea. The Hanging Gardens of Semiramis, the Mausoleum at Halicarnassus, all of them cannot escape the destructive and eternally grinding Tooth of Time.

Time has not by-passed the most powerful buildings which the mortal hand of man has constructed. Yet, time has by-passed the indestructible spirit of freedom loving people. Such is, indeed, one of the genuine wonders of the world.

Spirit Triumphs

Jews have defied subjugations, humiliations and atrocities committed against them by the rulers of ancient Bablyon, Persia and Egypt and on and on throughout the ages to the Spanish Inquisitions, the pogroms and massacres, the Nazi persecution . . . 5,000 years or more.

Not weapons have triumphed over the gallows and the sword of the hench men, firing squads and gas chambers, but the spirit. Not just weapons win battles for freedom, but the spirit. The spirit of David, Mordecai and Maccabees as in the case of the struggle of the Jews for their survival.

Empires founded by fire and sword, by bayonets and bombs, do not last. Only those realms will survive that have been established by the invincible and indomitable spirit, the only strain in man's mortality that can claim to have eternal value.

Let us pay tribute to the noble brethern in their struggle for freedom and survival throughout the millenia.—H. A. SCHMMERLING.

ST. PAT MISSED THE EELWORMS—Legend has it that St. Patrick drove the snakes out of Ireland, but it takes the Agriculture Department's plant-quarantine inspectors to keep the tiny eelworm out of the United States when St. Patrick's Day draws near. Shipments of shamrocks from the old sod must be inspected for the minute worm and other plant pests, which may lurk in soil on the plants' roots. Contaminated mailings are fumigated and forwarded to addresses.

Rev. Cook Opens Church Classes

The Rev. James W. Cook, minister of the Overlook Methodist Church, announces that he will begin a membership class for adults and youth on Thursday, March 21.

The classes will continue for a 12-week period and are open to anyone who may be interested. Those who are already members and wish to take this course as a "refresher course" will be welcome to do so.

Classes will be divided into two sessions every Thursday evening, with a recess for questions and, perhaps, coffee, between the sessions. If you are interested, you are cordially invited to this "school for Christian living." A tentative schedule of classes is listed as follows::

1. (a) What is a Christian? (b) How do you become a Christian?; 2. (a) What are the major beliefs of a Christian? (b) What is the source of these beliefs?; 3. (a) How did we get the Bible?, (b) How do you read the Bible?; 4. (a) What is God like?, (b) Is God three Gods or one God?; 5. (a) Who is Jesus Christ?, (b) What does history say about Him?; 6. (a) Who is the Holy Spirit?, (b) Is man a sinner or a saint?; 7. (a) What is the Church?, (b) What Is a Protestant?; 8. (a) What is Methodism?, (b) How did it come to America?; 9. (a) Who runs the Methodist Church?, (b) How is Methodism different?; 10. (a) Is church attendance necessary?, (b) Is money emphasized too much?; 11. (a) Is Christianity practical?, (b) Is there a life after death?; 12. (a) Why join the church?; (b) Are there any questions?

Town Notes

The Art Exhibition for March and April now showing at the Woodstock post office includes the following exhibitors: Brock, Joan Rudman, Agnes Bierholtz, Edna Thurber, Ella Arnold, Mark Vukovic and Ed Shewmake.

Chamber to Pick Three Directors, Hear Sullivan

The Woodstock Township Chamber of Commerce will elect three members to the Board of Directors at its annual meeting Thursday at 8 p. m. at Deanie's.

The candidates for the three posts are Harry Alpern, local merchant; Richard O. Langham, operator of the Special Office Services; Oscar Vandendooren of the Rotron executive staff; Dr. Kenneth Bramer, Sylvia Kondolf, editor of the Record-Press, and James Post, local merchant.

Dr. George Sullivan, Superintendent of Onteora schools will be the speaker for the evening on the subject of "Our Overcrowded Schools and The Bond Issue." He will show slides on the plans for the proposed new buildings. A question and answer period will follow his talk.

The membership committee announced the new total membership of 81. If there are any interested persons who have been inadvertently missed, please contact Elbert Varney, membership chairman, at the Woodstock bank.

It was decided by the Board of Directors to attend the next Woodstock Town Board meeting on Tuesday, March 19, 1963. Again, they will try to see if the Town Board has made any progress on the proposed parking lots in the village. The Chamber would appreciate all members and interested parties to attend and perhaps get some action on this very important issue.

You Should Buy Your Aspirin Here --Where You Get

DRUGTAX A SERVICE TO TAXPAYERS

This may come as news to you, but aspirin is one of those drugs that may be of a deductible nature on your federal income tax return.

But to claim it, you must be able to offer proof you bought it.

When you buy it from us, you get that proof. But when you buy it at the corner grocery, or in a department store, or in a restaurant, you are likely to forget about it.

That goes for a lot of other things, too—such as antiseptics, cough and cold preparations, laxatives, and so on.

Our customers like to buy all of their drug supplies from us, because they know they will get the benefit of a complete record of all purchases of a deductible nature.

Our customers get an annual statement (mailed in February) which tells them how much they spent on drugs of a deductible nature. It's called a DrugTax record, and we offer it to our customers free of charge.

Next time you buy aspirin (or any drug item), be sure you're in a store that gives you a DrugTax record. Come income tax time, it can save you money.

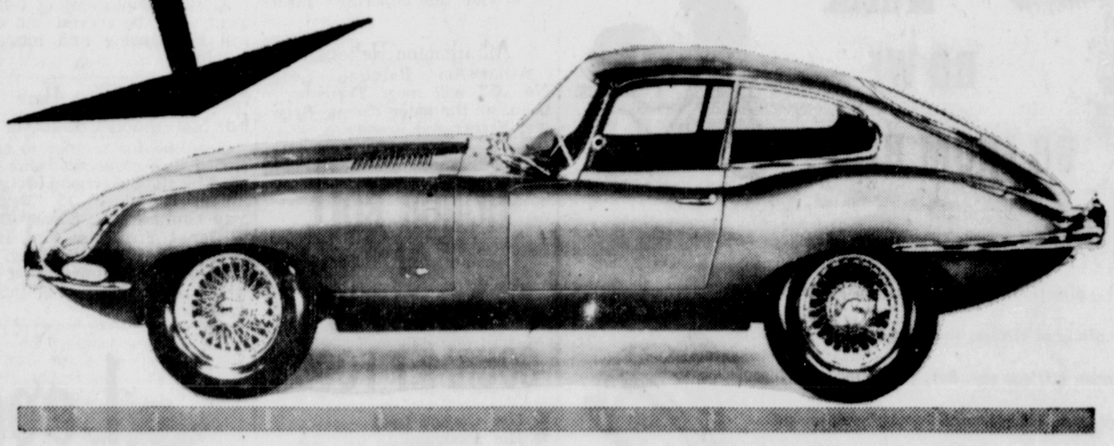
Announcement...

WE TAKE GREAT PLEASURE IN ANNOUNCING THAT WE HAVE BEEN APPOINTED THE EXCLUSIVE DEALERSHIP FOR Jaguar

We are the only Sales Agency in Ulster County to handle the Sales AND Servicing of the highly acceptable quality line of motor vehicles manufactured by Jaguar Cars Limited.



Every Jaguar XK-E comes only one way—fully equipped*

The unique features of the Jaguar XK-E are on each car—at a realistic price.

You don't have to "build-it-yourself" from a costly list of optional extras, modifications and frills.

Much of what you get in an XK-E is immediately apparent. The long, sleek, aerodynamic look of the car tells at a glance of its phenomenal speed (150 m.p.h.) and roadability.

You always feel completely in command of an XK-E, no matter what the speed, road or driving conditions. It's a thoroughly enjoyable confidence that no lesser car can give you.

A few of the reasons for this are: twin overhead-cam, race-proven engine; "Monocoque" body (more strength with less weight); independent suspension all around; four-wheel disc brakes.

The interior is functional luxury. Genuine leather covers the bucket seats. The dash panel is completely instrumented. A rear door on the Coupe opens wide for access to the large luggage area.

Roadster price: $5,325 P.O.E. (Coupe $200 more). Competitive domestic cars start a little lower in price, but catch up when comparably equipped. Also, inquire about Jaguar's money-saving Overseas Delivery Plan if you're going to Europe. Inspect the XK-E at your Jaguar dealer's . . . drive it and discover an exceptional sports car.

* All this at one price: 265 HP, twin overhead-cam engine (finished in highly polished alloy)—full-flow engine oil filter—three S. U. carburetors—dual exhausts, chrome plated pipes—top speed 150 m.p.h. plus—0 to 100 in 15.8 secs. Bill Would Give Big Pay Hikes to 6 Retired Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six of the nation's ranking retired military officers would get a healthy increase in their retirement pay under a measure recommended Tuesday by a House Armed Services subcommittee as part of a proposed $1.5-billion military pay increase.

Under the bill, the five-starred officers, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Gen. Omar Bradley and Adm. Chester Nimitz would get a raise from $20,543.36 a year to $24,186.56. Gen Carl Spaatz, Adm. Raymond Spruance and Gen. A.A. Vandergrift, would be raised from $20,143.36 to $21,386.569.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower draws a $25,000 annual presidential pension but no military retirement pay. As a retired five-star general, however, he is entitled to all other benefits provided for retired officers.

Air Cover for JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — American fighter planes will patrol President Kennedy's air route to Costa Rica next week. Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said Tuesday night that similar protection had been given the President before on his trips to Venezuela and Colombia.

Salinger said he wouldn't call the fighters an escort for they will be out of sight of the President's plane and various squadrons will take over the patrol duties along the way.

The island of Luzon holds both the Philippines' old capital, Manila, and the official new seat of government at nearby Quezon City.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill, Britain's wartime prime minister, was a big step closer today to becoming the first foreigner to rate honorary American citizenship through an act of Congress.

By vote of 377 to 21, the House sent to the Senate Monday a resolution to bestow the honor of the doughty 88-year-old Briton.

Early Senate action is expected.

Some murmers of dissent over the House action were based mainly on the claim that American citizenship was something too precious to be given away.

Probe Due on News

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's public information program—criticized as sometimes becoming an effort to manage news—will go under the probe of a congressional subcommittee March 19 and 21.

Announcement of the hearing dates caused cancellation of another conference on the issue which had been set up by White House press secretary Pierre Salinger.

He had arranged for a give-and-take session with spokesmen of major news media for April 5 and 6 at Warrenton, Va. Tuesday night he sent telegrams to those invited that his conference now seemed unnecessary since the same people are to participate in the hearings of the House Government Operations subcommittee on government information.

The Philippines now has a population of 27,500,000, an increase of more than 9,000,000 since the end of the war.

Trucker Hurt As Vehicle Veers

A 49-year-old Schenectady truck driver was injured at 11:40 a. m. Tuesday when a tractor-trailer he was driving was reportedly forced off Route 9W and struck the Malden railroad bridge about two miles north of the village of Saugerties.

According to an investigation by Trooper Robert Mackey, Kingsotn sub-station, Arthur McGraw, of 138 Elm Street, Schenectady, was driving a vehicle owned by the Railway Express Agency of Albany, south on Route 9W, when an unidentified vehicle forced the truck to the right shoulder.

Troopers said the vehicle struck hard snow on the shoulder and veered across the northbound lane where it rammed into the bridge abutment. McGraw was taken to Kingston Hospital by the H. and S. Ambulance Service. He was treated for lacerations of the scalp, right leg and right ear, and admitted. His condition was described as satisfactory.

Assessors to Meet

Matters pertaining to assessments on property in the Town of Marbletown will be discussed tonight at a meeting of the town's Board of Assessors at the town clerk's office, Stone Ridge. The session is slated from 7 to 8 p. m.

DUSO Title Tilt Will Be Held at Kate Walton

That playoff game between Poughkeepsie and Monticello, originally scheduled for the Valley Central gym on Friday night, will be played Saturday at the Kate Walton Field House in Kingston. Game time is 8 p. m.

The schools involved learned that the Valley Central gym isn't available for a basketball game on either Friday or Saturday of this week.

Poughkeepsie Athletic Director Sam J. Kalloch and Monticello Director of Athletics John Lawler have agreed to play the tilt in Kingston. However, a basketball game between the high school faculty and the senior class is scheduled Friday, thus the change to Saturday.

The decision to play here was made this morning at a meeting in Newburgh. Attending from Kingston were Superintendent of Schools Dr. Earl F. Soper, High School Principal Edward Allen and G. Warren Kias, Director of Athletics.

Marlboro Eliminated From Sectional Play

Marlboro's flashy dukes, the UCAL champions, were knocked out of the Section Nine Class C tournament by Washingtonville, 47-45, in an overtime thriller last night at the Orange County Community College gym.

Somewhat rusty after their week's layoff, the Dukes had trouble finding the range after the first period as they closed their season with a 17-2 record, the best in the history of the school.

Marlboro moved to a 17-12 first stanza lead but then had it cut to a point, 23-22, by the interim. The Western Sullivan club moved in front, 35-31, starting the final period. The Dukes knotted the count before the end of regulation time, 43-43.

After Steve Aurigemma sent Coach Jack O'Donnell's team in front in the overtime session, the winners came back on baskets by Dick Quimby and George Loring to grab the decision.

The box score:

Washingtonville (47)

Tonight in Middletown

DUSO Coaches Slate Meeting; Hope to Form an Association

An organizational meeting of all coaches in the DUSO League is scheduled for tonight at 7:30 p. m. at the American Legion Hall in Middletown. The meeting is open to a coach of any sport, in both the City and Village schools. Athletic directors are not invited unless they coach a sport at the school.

The purpose of the meeting is to organize a DUSO League Coaches Assn. The idea was conceived last year by Charles (Rip) Fornal, football coach at Newburgh Free Academy. He sent letters to 87 coaches in the league and the majority of them favored the formation of an association.

A spokesman said that coaches, through this proposed association, hope to get representation at the league meetings. At present, only athletic directors and principals attend meetings and they are the ones who set policies in the circuit.

If there is enough interest shown at tonight's meeting, officers will be elected.

Doran's Wallops Elston Cagers

Four of the five players were in double figures as Doran's walloped Elston's Sport Shop, 83-58 in a YMCA B division game last night.

Sharpshooting Jim Colclough led the winners with 24 points. Dan Levy, Walt Colclough and Dick Nagele were also in double digits. Dick Barthel had 21 markers to pace the losers.

The boxscore::

Clippers Hold Playoff Hopes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Baltimore Clippers are only in their first season in the American Hockey League, but they're more than making their presence felt in the Eastern Division.

The Clippers tripped the Springfield Indians 4-3 Tuesday night and kept their playoff hopes alive. In the only other game played, the Quebec Aces edged the Pittsburgh Hornets 5-4 and moved to within striking distance of the Eastern lead.

The Baltimore victory enabled the Clippers to climb within one point of the fourth-place Indians in their scramble for the final Calder Cup playoff berth in the Eastern Division.

Baltimore piled up a 3-0 lead and then staved off Springfield's late surge. Don Johns, Mel Pearson and Ralph Keller scored for the Clippers before the Indians cut the deficit to 3-2 at the end of the second period on goals by Wayne Larkin and Bill White.

With less than two minutes to play, Jean Ratelle put Baltimore ahead 4-2. The Indians registered their final goal with 17 seconds left on a shot by Bruce Cline.

Quebec, in winning, bolstered its grip on third place in the Eastern section. The Aces trail co-leaders Providence and Hershey by two points and hold a five-point edge over Springfield.

Snider Asks Dodgers To Please Trade Him

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Duke Snider, one-time king of the Los Angeles Dodgers power hitters, has asked to be traded.

The 36-year-old outfielder, unable to win a starting outfield berth, presented his trade request to Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi Tuesday after fresh reports that either he or Wally Moon, another spare flychaser, will be sent to another club.

Big Wind 13-5 Pick Over Jones

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Cassius Clay takes the big step tonight on the road to a million dollars.

If cocky Cassius displays the punch to match his mouth against Doug Jones at Madison Square Garden, he could be well on the way to millionaire status before his 22nd birthday.

The 21-year-old, all-conquering heavyweight contender from Louisville is rated the favoriate to odds ranging from 13-5 to 3-1 to whip the 26-year-old New York contender before a standing room only crowd of 18,732.

Starting time is 10 p.m., EST for the 10-rounder which will be telecast to 40 locations in 38 cities. New York will be blacked out of the closed circuit telecast.

$100,000 for Jones

For tonight's fight with Jones, Clay will earn about $100,000 and Jones $75,000. If he stops Jones in four, as he has predicted, or beats him decisively, he will be close to a title fight in September with heavyweight king Sonny Liston — providing Liston gets by Floyd Patterson again.

Jones never has been stopped.

A fight with Liston—"that big, ugly bear" as Clay calls him — could earn Cassius his million. It also would give him the opportunity to achieve his amibition of becoming the youngest heavyweight champion of all time.

Patterson holds that distinction now. He did it when he was 21 years, 10 months and 26 days old. Clay, born on Jan. 17, 1942, has until Dec. 12 of this year to break the mark.

Usual Predictions

"I'm gonna stop that Jones and then I'm going to whip that gorilla Liston and be the greatest champion of them all," proclaimed Cassius.

Clay, handsome, strong and fast and still growing, stands 6-foot-3 and weights about 205 pounds. He won the Olympic light heavyweight (178 pounds) title in 1960 and has won all 17 of his pro fights, 14 by knockouts.

He already ranks as the No. 2 contender behind ex - champion Patterson although his victims mostly include rookies and washed up veterans like Archie Moore, Willie Besmanoff and Alex Miteff.

Jones, a pro since August, 1958, has a 21-3-1 won-lost-record including 13 knockouts. He is ranked third by Ring and fifth by the WBA.

Frosh Wrestling At West Point

WEST POINT — The Eighth Annual West Point Freshmen Wrestling Tournament gets underway here on Friday afternoon.

The two-day tourney, which will be held on the 2nd floor, East Gym, has attracted a record field of 25 college frosh teams including some 150 wrestlers.

Two preliminary sessions are slated for Friday at 3 p. m. and 7 p. m. On Saturday the semifinals will begin at 9 a. m. The finals follow at 2 p. m. A $1.00 admission fee will be charged for the championships only.

The tournament figures to be the best to date. Army and Cornell both have entered undefeated teams in dual meet competition this winter.

Other prominent mat teams include Lehigh, Penn State, Syracuse, Pittsburgh and Rutgers.

One of the most celebrated wrestlers in the tourney is Dave Clery, 137 pounder from Pittsburgh who won the Wilkes Christmas Tournament in competition with varsity wrestlers.

Army has six undefeated grapplers entered including Jay Walker Robertson (123), Bob Robbins (130), Bob Steenlage (137), Mark Scureman (147), Ken Carlson (157) and Ray Sepeta (167).

Oakland Site Arouses Dupas

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Ralph Dupas is balking at a proposed title fight with junior middleweight champion Denny Moyer, but the dancing New Orleans boxer may have to go through with the fight whether he likes it or not.

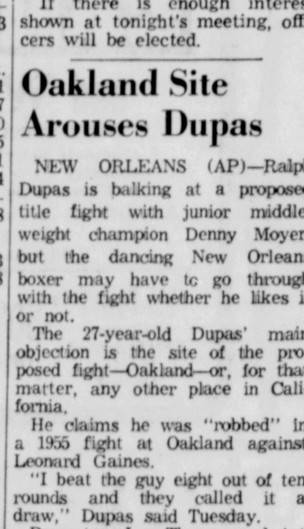
The 27-year-old Dupas' main objection is the site of the proposed fight—Oakland—or, for that matter, any other place in California.

He claims he was "robbed" in a 1955 fight at Oakland against Leonard Gaines.

"I beat the guy eight out of ten rounds and they called it a draw," Dupas said Tuesday.

Promoters Lou Thomas and Art Benjamin of the Oakland National Boxing Club announced the Moyer-Dupas fight on Monday. It is set for April 15.

Now Dupas says he won't fight and told sportswriters he has made arrangements for a series of fights next month in Australia.



Warriors Cling To Slim Chance For NBA Playoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Francisco Warriors still have a chance. Chances are "99 out of 100" Chicago doesn't.

That's the situation in the National Basketball Association today following a night in which the Warriors retained an outside chance to grab a playoff berth, and Chicago General Manager Frank Lane indicated the Zephyrs will be playing in Baltimore next season.

Meanwhile, Syracuse ran its winning streak to 10 games with a 130-106 walloping of the Zephyrs and Cincinnati handed hapless New York its ninth straight setback, 110-96. The other clubs were idle.

Outside Chance

The San Francisco 116-110 win over Los Angeles left the Warriors 2½ games behind Detroit in the battle for the third and last playoff spot in the Western Division. The best the Warriors can do is tie. In order to do that, they will have to win their last three games while the Pistons lose their closing two.

Lane made his remarks before the Zephyrs-Nats game. He said "one of the reasons I took the job last year was because there was a team in Chicago. The team belongs here but I am not one of the owners so I have no say in the matter."

Owner Dave Trager said last week that he might move the team next year.

Casey's Semantics Cover Up Mets' Playing Deficiencies

BY MURRAY OLDERMAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., (NEA)—"And in center field," quoth Casey Stengel, the bard of the New York Mets, "we got (Eli) Chacon, which just came in from Venezuela. And that proves he can cover a lot of ground . . . (pause) . . . some of it in the air."

This was Ol' Case embarking on his 54th year of spring training as player, coach, manager and banker and lending his own brand of spice to a roster.

When he loped, hunched with age, past the St. Louis Cardinal dugout onto Al Lang Field in St. Petersburg, titters of fondness ran through the stands. It was the kind of an audience that might have been there when Casey broke in with Kankakee in 1910.

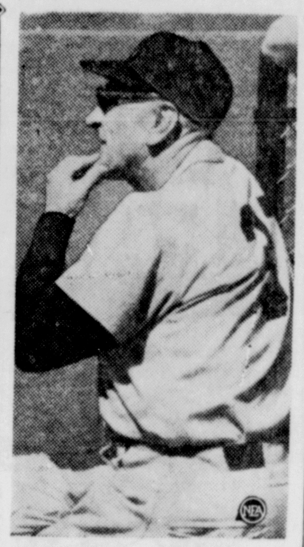
Only in the privacy of a clubhouse, you wouldn't call Stengel lovable. He can be downright crusty.

"I'm paid to manage," he said testily, "though people don't know it. I'm generally interviewed every hour. When I get through here I got four or five waiting to talk to me."

Maybe the role of character and buffoon to cover up the shortcomings of the Mets is beginning to pall.

* * *

When he discusses the club for an audience, there are no knowing winks or entertaining double talk which brought Stengelese into the baseball lexicon. The language remains singularly descriptive.



CASEY STENGEL

"Coleman stops passed balls," he reflected. He can run like blazes. My other catcher is Canzoneri, with a busted hand."

The other catcher is really Chris Cannizzaro. Coleman is Clarence or Choo Choo.

"We don't know how many games (Gil) Hodges on first can give us," he continued. "He plays right-handed but looks like he's left-handed.

"Neal (Charley) is the shortstop.

"We got three pitchers. (Roger) Craig is very good against Los Angeles, Cincinnati and San Francisco. They can't steal bases on him. On a 1-2-3 club he's amazin'. He would be a relief pitcher because he can go in and get 'em in the eighth or ninth inning.

"Now (Alvin) Jackson—when you can win four shutouts on this ball club, you're a big leaguer. (Jay) Hook pitches like he should win 20 games.

"It's still not a staff."

* * *

Stengel turns as nimble as a mountain goat only when the conservation is steered into touchy channels, like Gene Woodling being fired for interceding in a salary argument.

"If I was in a pennant race and needed a man to hit, he could do it," was the way he answered that one.

Ask if there's any similarity between managing the Mets and the bedraggled Boston Braves of the 1930s (who finished seventh four years in a row) and Casey rambles:

"I have coaches to teach 'em one move. They don't let 'em get off the field until they've completed everything they have to learn (Solly) Hemus and (Cookie) Lavagetto—they might fit somebody's shoe.

"These players got to know each other. My problem is blending them together."

"You better buy binoculars," Stengel told the team broadcasters at the start of training. "We're going to do a lot of running this year. That's the only way you'll be able to catch us."

Walter Hanzi Captures Third Victory in Hunter Cup Race

Walter Hanzi of Union Center Road has retired the Hunter Cup Race trophy, with his third consecutive victory.

Hanzi outclassed a brilliant field to win the annual Giant Slalom in a 1:50 clocking at Hunter Mountain Ski Slope.

Dave Slutzky of the Hunter Ski Club was close (1:52) second followed by Heinz Lorin, also of Hunter, 1:54.

Others in the top seven finishers included: Mike Berry, 1:55.1; Tom Glozer, 1:57; Jeff Jones, 1.57:2; Alan Doch, 1.55.3.

Schedule Final NBA Series for West

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The final series in the National Basketball Association's Western Division playoffs will open at the Los Angeles Sports Arena March 31.

The Los Angeles Lakers, division champions for the second straight year, will be opposed by the winner of a preliminary series between the second-place St. Louis Hawks and the third-place team, either Detroit or San Francisco.

The second game of the best 4-out-of-7 playoffs will be played here April 2.

Ikey Wins Feature At Yonkers Raceway

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Ikey won the featured $2,250 Rye Pace at Yonkers Raceway Tuesday night.

Ikey, scoring his first victory in three starts at Yonkers, got up in the last few yards for a neck victory over Warren's Special and paid $23.50. Rhythm Mary finished third.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Gene Freese was a baseball nomad, bouncing from club to club until he hit Cincinnati. He came into his own in 1961 and enjoyed his best year when the Reds won the pennant. A year ago in the first squad game, the Reds were practically eliminated from the pennant race when Freese's right ankle was broken.

A lion's share of the Reds' pennant hopes for 1963 rests on Freese's ability to regain his '61 form. That is why visitors to Al Lopez Field, Cincinnati's spring base, watch carefully when Freese moves around third base. Early reports are optimistic.

Is Recovered

"Gene has shown me enough to prove he has entirely recovered from the ankle injury," said Manager Fred Hutchinson today. "Of course, we'll have to wait and see how it stands up in the games."

Freese, 29, insists the Reds have no cause to worry.

"I am going to be all right," said Freese. "I want to forget it ever happened. It cost me a full season right after I had my best year. I still can feel it when I step on uneven ground. But don't worry, I'll do the job."

Freese had a fine year in '61 when the Reds won the pennant. He averaged .277 and hit 26 home runs and drove in 87 runs. The homers and RBIs were tops for him in the majors.

Like the rest of the Reds, Freese figures the club has a good shot at the pennant. The memory of the team's humiliating defeat by the New York Yankees in the World Series has faded but he still remembers the fancy check for $5,300 from his losing share.

"I don't care who we play as long as we get in it again," said Freese.

Masters Limited

AUGUSTA, Ga. (NEA) — Attendance at the Masters, April 4-7, will be limited because of difficulty in expanding facilities and parking areas. Parking capacity is 10,000 cars.

Georgia Legislators Like Zone Defense

ATLANTA (AP)—It's the reapportioned zone vs. the rustic shuffle tonight—with a prayer that the linament holds out.

The Georgia House takes on the Senate in a charity basketball game at Georgia Tech's Alexander Memorial Coliseum. The House is a slight favorite, mainly because this chamber has a larger bench with four times as many members as the Senate.

Senate Coach Culver Kidd says he plans to use the reapportioned zone defense to stop the rustic shuffle employed by House Coach Tom Murphy's team.

Hopeful

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (NEA) — An envelope containing a nomination for the Kentucky Derby, May 4, had the quotation "Quench not the spirit" on the front.

Turning the envelope over, the Churchill Downs secretary found written on the back, "Hallelujah! . . . all things are possible."

Orioles, Chisox Make Trades Appear Good

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Everthing is coming up roses for the Baltimore Orioles and Chicago White Sox, but as always the world champion New York Yankees are finding the exhibition baseball trail lined with thorns.

The Orioles and White Sox, who completed one of the biggest trades of the winter, received maximum performances from some of their newcomers Tuesday while the world champion Yankees were held to a lone scratch single in a 5-0 loss to Milwaukee at West Palm Beach, Fla. It was the Yanks' third loss in five games.

Only Tom Tresh's infield single in the seventh inning prevented the Yankees from complete humiliation as Frank Funk, acquired in a trade with Cleveland, Claude Raymond and rookie Larry Maxie combined to pitch the Braves to their first victory in four games.

The Orioles whipped Detroit 7-2 in a night game at Miami, boosting their record to 4-0 and becoming the lone undefeated team, in either league, while the White Sox defeated the New York Mets 3-1 at Sarasota for their third triumph in four games.

Key Roles

Former White Sox regulars Al Smith and Luis Aparicio played key roles for the Orioles. Smith stroked a bases-loaded single to get Baltimore started in the first inning after Al Kaline had hit a two-run homer for Detroit. Aparicio wound up the scoring with a homer.

Former Orioles Dave Nicholson and Pete Ward drove in all the White Sox runs in the first inning against the Mets, Nicholson lashing a two-run double and Ward a run-scoring single. The Chicagoans received an added boost when comeback pitcher Herb Score allowed only one hit in three innings.

In other Florida games, the Los Angeles Dodgers edged St. Louis 4-3 at St. Petersburg, Philadelphia belted Cincinnati 12-6 at Clearwater, Pittsburgh nipped Washington 7-6 in 10 innings at Fort Myers and Kansas City beat Minnesota 7-4 at Orlando.

On the Arizona front, the National League champion San Francisco Giants downed Boston 4-1 at Scottsdale, the Los Angeles Angels walloped Cleveland 6-1 at Tucson and Houston rallied for a 6-5 decision over the Chicago Cubs at Apache Junction.

UCLA Cagers Earn Bid to NCAA Play

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

The UCLA Bruins, almost counted out of the Big Six Conference race two weeks ago, have become the final entrant in the 16-team NCAA Regional Basketball Tournament field.

UCLA eliminated the Stanford Indians 51-45 in a playoff to determine the Big Six representative at Santa Monica, Calif., Tuesday night. The victory qualified the Bruins for a berth in the Far West regional semifinals at Provo, Utah Friday night.

The Uclans, in gaining their second straight league crown, will meet Arizona State University in the Far West bracket.

A week ago Stanford led UCLA by two games with two games to play. But the Indians lost to the Bruins Friday and to Southern California Saturday. UCLA tied for first place by beating California Saturday.

Eight of the nation's top ten teams in the final Associated Press poll have qualified for the regional semifinals. Top-ranked Cincinnati will be seeking an unprecedented third straight championship.

Other members of the Top Ten competing are Duke, No. 2; Chicago Loyola, No. 3; Arizona State, No. 4; Mississippi State, No. 6; Illinois, No. 8; New York University, No. 9; and Colorado, No. 10.

The NAIA Tournament at Kansas City completed its second day of opening round games Tuesday and trimmed the field to 16 teams. Among the highlights, second-seeded Augsburg, Minn., turned back West Virginia State 67-57 and seventh-seeded Western Illinois was upset by Miles, Ala., 84-81.

Eight games are scheduled for the second round today and tonight.

The quarter-finals of the NCAA college division tournament take place today and tonight at Evansville, Ind., with four ranked teams in the AP's final small college Top Ten in the field, headed by top-ranked Wittenberg, Ohio.

The 26th annual National Invitation Tournament with 12 entrants gets under way Thursday night in Madison Square Garden with a first-round doubleheader. In the opener, Villanova, 19-8, meets DePaul, 15-7, while Fordham, 18-7, opposes Memphis State, 18-6, in the second game.

Baltimore Owner Is Accused Of Betting Against Team

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Carroll D. Rosenbloom, owner of the Baltimore Colts, has been accused in federal court of betting $55,000 against his own team in a 1953 National Football League game.

Rosenbloom's own lawyer put the accusation on, the record Tuesday in an attempt to have ex-gambler Mike McLaney, of Miami Beach, who made the deposition three years ago, cited for criminal contempt. He said the charge was a vicious and outrageous lie.

But Judge George C. Young threw out the contempt motion, emphasizing that he was not ruling on the truth or falsity of the accusation.

Also made public Tuesday were three affidavits in which McLaney's associates swore that Rosenbloom was a big bettor.

National Football League regulations forbid betting by players or owners.

Robert J. McGravey, once a Philadelphia detective, declared that he was Rosenbloom's personal assistant from 1951 to 1954 and that he had often placed bets for him.

Richard Melvin, an investor, said in his affidavit, "I distinctly remember that during one professional season he made nine straight winning bets on professional football games."

Larry E. Murphy, onetime McLaney chauffeur, swore, "I particularly remember that in 1953 when his team was playing against the 49ers on the coast, Rosenbloom bet a large amount of money against his own team, and because of the point spread, won the bet."

The affidavits, made in connection with a stock deal suit in 1960, were sealed and the suit was dismissed by Federal Judge Joseph Lieb Jan. 5, 1961.

Assembly Approves Longer Nag Session

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Legislation to extend New York State's thoroughbred racing season by six days needs only Gov. Rockefeller's signature to become law.

The measure, aimed at producing more tax revenue for the state, was given final legislative approval by the Assembly Tuesday. The vote was 139-4.

The flat-track season now runs from March 20 through Nov. 30. Under the extension, the season would end Dec. 7. But because racing is not permitted on Sundays, there would be six additional racing days, not seven.

The state estimates the extra days of racing would produce $1.3 million in pari-mutuel tax revenue.

The Legislature and Rockefeller earlier this year approved a 26-day extension of the harness-racing season to produce more revenue to help balance the budget for the 1963-64 fiscal year.

Yale Poloists Gain Collegiate Finals

NEW YORK (AP)—Yale gained the finals of the National Intercollegiate Indoor Polo Championships with a 15-6 victory over Princeton at the Squadron A Armory Tuesday night.

The other semifinal match will be held Thursday night with Cornell, the defending titleholder and champion six of the last eight years, meeting Virginia. The Cornell-Virginia survivor earns the right to play Yale for the crown Saturday night.

Sangi's Bowlero on Spree

Balash (650-1718), and Atwood's 260-610 Highlight Press Tourney

Sangi's Bowlero keglerettes placed in every division and furnished some of the outstanding highlights to date in weekend action in the Schenectady Press Tournament.

Sis Balash fired a 650 to take over both net and gross singles on games of 183, 234 and 233. Her 1718 all events, with 535 team, 533 doubles and 650 singles tops the net division in the nine-game department. The 650 is the highest series for the tournament in any division.

Dot Atwood rolled 260, highest single in the tournament, and added 209 and 141 for 610 in singles, a career-first 600 for her.

Other Highlights

In the 260 game Atwood opened with a 4-timer, left 4 pins in the fifth frame, spared and added a 5-timer before leaving 2 pins on her second ball in the 10th box. She was awarded a steak dinner for the 260 solo.

Other highlights of the Bowlero sweep were:

Balash and Marion Sanford are in second place with 1140 gross doubles and their 1107 net is also in the money.

Dot Atwood's 1819 gross all-events is in the money, along with her 1120 gross doubles with Addie Walters, and 1109 gross posted by Terry Beckert and Evelyn Gross.

The Bowlero squad rolled 2579 net and had 171 handicap for 2750 gross, which is in the money, with four weekends remaining in the tournament.

Marion Sanford contributed a 574 series, on 181, 198, 195 in her doubles set with Balash.

Interior Department Lists Openings in Summer Slate

The Izaak Walton League of America is cooperating with the Department of Interior in the program of reserving a limited number of Department summer jobs for highly qualified young men planning careers in conservation.

The League will select 13 outstanding high school senior boys for field work with the Department this summer.

In New York state, all applications through Izaak Walton League should be mailed to Fred R. Weil, chairman of the League's selection committee, 283 Genessee street, Utica 2, New York.

The applicant will be required to submit the following material: a completed U. S. government form No. 57 employment application, available at any post office; a transcript of his high school record to date; a written recommendation from some adult, other than family, who knows the applicant and his qualification for the program; a letter from him indicating his college and career plans, describing his extra-curricular activities in high school and any conservation work he has done and outlining his reasons for seeking summer employment with the Department of Interior.

Deadline March 31

All applications must be received by Weil no later than March 31.

Secretary of the Interior Stuart L. Udall has indicated that every effort will be made to locate the selected employes as close to their homes as possible, since each employe will be expected to pay his own travel expenses to and from the area of his work.

To qualify for one of these jobs, a young man must presently be a high school senior expecting to graduate in the spring, be 18 years of age by June 15, 1963, and have definite plans to enter a college or university for ultimate study in a natural resources field — including, but not limited to, forestry, soil and range conservation, land management, fish and wildlife, outdoor recreation, or geology. He should have an above average scholastic record, possess leadership qualities, and have shown a continuing interest in natural resources conservation. He must be in good health and be physically capable of field work.

Reported Late

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (NEA) — Jim Vollenweider, rookie fullback with the San Francisco 49ers, is spending the off season in the Army at Fort Ord, Calif., but he arrived there about 10 years too late.

In 1935 Ord won the All-Service football championship with Don Heinrich, Ed Henke, Cliff Livingston and Ollie Matson on the team. All went to the regulars in the National Football League and all are still active except Heinrich, who is an assistant coach with Los Angeles.

Giants Sign Cepeda For Raise of $1,000

MESA, Ariz. (AP) —The San Francisco Giants have rounded out what they hope will be the second successive National League pennant-winners by drawing reluctant first baseman Orlando Cepeda into camp with a $1,000 raise in salary.

Cepeda, who had said he would stay in his native Puerto Rico until he was given a boost in his 1962 salary of $46,500, agreed to report to work Friday after the pay increase was announced.

No Major Changes In ABC Standings

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) —The mid-event doldrums have descended upon the American Bowling Congress Tournament, and for the first time since the opening on Feb. 16 there are no major changes in the nine divisions today.

Crest Lanes of Warren, Ohio, the only classic division team on the schedule, opened its six-game stint with a dismal 2,731 series Tuesday night. Crest needs a record 3,479 total in its final three games to overtake United of St. Louis, which took the lead this week with 6,210.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept help wanted advertisments from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Beginning September 3, 1961, employees engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.15 an hour and at least time and one-half for hours worked after 40 in a workweek, unless specifically exempt. Employees of certain large retail, service, construction, and other enterprises must be paid not less than $1.00 an hour after September 3, 1961, but no overtime for such employment is required until September 3, 1963. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning this law or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at Bronx: Abraham Klainbard, investigation Supr., 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. WYandotte 2-1235.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY SCOUTS—Ulster County Council Girl Scouts marks 51st birthday of scouting at party Saturday. Cake bakers are Marianne Geuss and Karen Quigley of Troop 24, St. Peter's Church; Nancy Edge of Troop 62, Reformed Church of the Comforter and Carol Goldberg of Troop 121, Port Ewen. Other festivities included World Friendship program and showing of The Road to Button Bay film on the Senior Round-up. Girl Scout Week activities will continue through March 16. (Freeman photo)

51st Birthday Of Girl Scouts Observed at Fete

The Kingston District of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts held its annual celebration in honor of the 51st Birthday of Girl Scouting in America at the Kingston High School Auditorium Saturday, 1 p. m.

Theme of the program was International Friendship, with troops of Brownie, Intermediate, and Senior Girl Scouts from the district participating.

Brownie Troop 72 of the Reformed Church of the Comforter presented the flag ceremony. Intermediate Girl Scout Nancy Edge of Troop 62, Church of the Comforter gave the invocation and was assisted with a song by members of her troop.

Intermediate troop 98 of the Fair Street Reformed Church presented a candlelight ceremony featuring the laws as interpreted by ten different countries in which the Scout movement is popular.

Girl Scout Carol Goldberg of the Port Ewen Reformed Church troop, was mistress of ceremonies for the program, then called for the presentation of the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund. This is a time honored custom of Girl Scout troops all over the country whereby each Girl Scout contributes one penny for each year of her age to the World Friendship Fund. The proceeds from this fund have enabled girl scouts of the United States to act as hostess to many hundreds of International Girl Scouts or Guides, and to send over 1,000 Girl Scouts abroad in exchange programs involving 51 countries.

Following the presentation of the birthday boxes to Mrs. Randolf Seigel, second vice president, Intermediate Troop 54 of the First Presbyterian Church, sang a French song, Intermediate Troop 24 of St. Peter's Church baked an International Birthday cake. Brownie Troop 26 of St. Peter's Church then sang a German song. Brownie Troop 9 of the Fair Street Reformed Church performed a Scandinavian Dance.

Senior Scout Mary Lou Josefski, who was an alternate delegate to the Senior Round-up last summer gave a brief talk giving a salute to all Girl Scout leaders thanking them on behalf of all girl scouts for all the help they have given through the years.

Camp Wendy folders, and applications were distributed at the meeting by Senior Girl Troop 131 of St. James Methodist Church. Camp registrations will open on April 1, for girls of the Ulster County Council and on May 1 for non-scouts who would like to go to camp. The movie, The Road to Button Bay was shown, featuring the adventures of the Senior Girl Scouts at Round-up in Button Bay, Vt., which 38,000 Girl Scouts from the United States and abroad attended during the past summer for a two week program of scouting and interchange of ideas.

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 76 of the Old Dutch Church sang the closing hymn, the Golden Sun, and Brownie Troops of St. Joseph's Church sang Taps in French to officially bring the celebration to a close.

Proposals Told For Road Jobs In Po'keepsie

Proposals for five new road construction projects in the greater Poughkeepsie area and western Dutchess County, were made known Tuesday by M. Nicholas Sinacori, district engineer of the State Department of Public Works.

Aimed at alleviating traffic congestion, the projects are: Poughkeepsie east-west arterial highway bearing priority, three lanes easterly and another three-lane highway westerly; a two-lane bypass route on new location from Wurtemburg to a connection with Interstate Route 84 in the Town of East Fishkill; a northern two-lane connector road from Route 9, north of Poughkeepsie, to the proposed easterly bypass route; a southern connector route of four lanes extending from existing Spackenkill Road at Route 9 to the easterly bypass, and a city-town line route of four lanes extending from the northern connector route to the southern connector route in a corridor generally following Innis Avenue, Grand Avenue and Wilbur Boulevard.

Sinacori explained that the plans for the new construction projects came from an exhaustive traffic survey and study undertaken by the State Department of Public Works in 1962. The district engineer noted that the report made known yesterday is not a final one.

NOTICE OF SALE
STATE OF NEW YORK SUPREME COURT: COUNTY OF ULSTER

ULSTER COUNTY SAVINGS INSTITUTION, Plaintiff, — against —
KINGSTON MODERN HOME SUPPLY CO., INC., EDWARD SEYMOUR, NEW YORK STATE TAX COMMISSION, UMHAY LUMBER CO., ISLAND DOCK LUMBER, INC., Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in the above entitled action and bearing date the 15th day of February 1963, I, the undersigned Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the front door of the Ulster County Court House on Wall Street in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York, on the 19th day of March, 1963, at 12:00 o'clock noon of that day, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described as Parcel A. In the event that such sale shall be insufficient to discharge the mortgage debt, expenses of the sale and costs of this action, then, I the undersigned Referee shall sell the parcel of the mortgaged premises hereinafter described as Parcel C, said parcels being described as follows:

PARCEL A

ALL THAT CERTAIN PLOT, PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND, with the buildings and improvements thereon erected, situate, lying and being in the City of Kingston, Ulster County, New York, being Lot No. 284 as indicated on map of lands conveyed to Schuyler C. Schultz by William R. Ten Broeck, made by J. D. Loughran, C.E. dated July 27, 1929 and filed in the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster as Map No. 801, bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the westerly side of Roosevelt Avenue distant 254.68 feet northerly from the intersection formed by the northerly side of Albany Avenue with the westerly side of said Roosevelt Avenue, said point being also the intersection formed by the westerly line of Roosevelt Avenue with the northerly line of Manor Place, and runs thence along said Manor Place South 50° 47' East 110.02 feet to the lands of William R. Ten Broeck, thence along lands of said William R. Ten Broeck North 28° 13' West 63.99 feet to the southerly line of Lot No. 285, thence northeasterly and at right angles with said Ten Broeck's lands and along the southerly line of Lot No. 285, 105 feet to the westerly side of Roosevelt Avenue, thence along the westerly side of Roosevelt Avenue, South 28° 13' East 43 feet to the point and place of beginning.

SUBJECT to restrictions contained in a deed to Schuyler C. Schultz by William R. Ten Broeck, by deed dated July 6, 1926 and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office in Book No. 518 of Deeds at page 326

PARCEL B

ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND situate in the Town of Ulster, County of Ulster, and State of New York, being all of Lot No. 188 and the northerly 20 feet of Lot 187 on a map or plan of Foxhall Manor, dated July 16, 1921, made by Ernest W. Branch, C.E. and filed in the Office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster as Map No. 620 and more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the northwesterly side of Savoy Street at a point 63.07 feet southwesterly from the corner formed by the intersection of northwesterly side of Savoy Street with the southerly side of Hinsdale Street and running thence northwesterly along the division line between Lots 188 x 189 on said map 118.45 feet to a point on the easterly bounds of property now or formerly Alice Klersted; thence South along said easterly bounds of Klersted as shown on said map 50.07 feet to a point; thence in a general easterly direction and parallel to the division line between Lots 186 and 187 a distance of 121.68 feet to a point on the easterly bounds of property now or formerly Alice Klersted as shown on said map; thence South along said easterly bounds of Klersted 50.07 feet to a point; thence in a general easterly direction and parallel to the division line between Lots 185 and 186 a distance of 123.30 feet to a point on the westerly side of Savoy Street; thence along the westerly side of said Savoy Street in a northerly direction 50 feet to the point and place of beginning.

Would Consider Taking Away Some McNamara Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., said today Congress should consider whether to take away some of the broad powers now vested in Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Hebert, member of the House Armed Services Committee, spoke out as the House prepared to resume debate on a $15.8 billion military buying bill. The Armed Services Committee recommended the measure be pegged at that level to include $363.7 million earmarked for stepped-up development of the RS70 reconnaissance strike plane.

McNamara is against expansion of the development program, which now calls for construction of three planes. The committee majority wants the Air Force to build five of them to see whether the reconnaissance strike craft can be developed into a warplane for the nation's arsenal.

Lillian Reis Charged

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Lillian Reis, the attractive night club owner charged with masterminding the Pottsville burglary, was arrested at her club, the Celebrity Room, today and charged with enticing a customer to buy a drink, the police reported.

Police at the sixth district headquarters said besides Miss Reis, Cyril Migliore, 41, was charged with allowing females to entice customers to buy drinks. They were charged on a complaint by patrolman Raymond Devine, said the police.

Further identification of Migliore was not immediately available, a sergeant at the headquarters said.

Warming Trend Due by Weekend

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The extended forecast, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p.m. today to 7 p.m. Monday:

Eastern New York—Mild weather indicated with temperatures averaging 5 or more degrees above normal. Seasonal at beginning with warming trend by weekend. Rain, possibly mixed with snow over northern areas, likely by late in weekend. Amounts may exceed one-half inch.

Western New York — Temperature will average 3 to 6 degrees above normal. Colder Thursday with warming trend beginning Friday and turning colder again about Monday. Precipitation will average one-half to three-quarters inch melted as rain or snow to night and again over weekend.

Temperature normals—Daytime highs 35-44; nighttime lows 19-25.

Anyway It's Better Than March of '88

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Seventy-five years ago today, a passenger train led by seven engines set out from Troy and puffed over the 10 miles to Albany in 24 hours. The blizzard of '88 had dropped nearly four feet of snow.

So, don't grumble too much if fog grounded the airplane you had planned to board today, or if snow, rain or slush annoyed you.

Fog blanketed most of the state this morning and forced cancellation of some airline flights. Overnight low temperatures were generally above freezing, however, and no significant snow had fallen.

The weather bureau said tonight would be cooler and snow flurries would dot some areas, after some wet snow in western New York and east of Lake Ontario. Flurries and clouds were forecast for those sections Thursday, but skies were expected to clear in the rest of the state.

Goes to Committee

Dutchess County's Board of Supervisors voted recently to refer to a special tax base committee, a resolution asking the board to endorse a statewide referendum this fall on off-track betting as an additional source of state revenue. The matter was referred to committee after 11 Republican supervisors opposed unanimous consent.

U. S. Reduces Area Needed To Police Ban

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

GENEVA (AP) — The United States substantially reduced today the area it said each on-site inspection would cover to police a ban on underground nuclear tests.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle put before the 17-nation disarmament conference the first detailed Western plan for inspection procedures.

The plan provides that any on-site inspection would cover a maximum of 500 square kilometers—193 square m$les. Previously the United States demanded inspection of an area of 700 to 800 square kilometers — 270 to 308 square miles — to determine whether a suspicious underground disturbance was an earthquake or a banned nuclear explosion.

"A careful review of the scientific problems concerned in determining the location of an epicenter"—the center of the disturbance—led the United States to offer the reduced inspection area, Stelle said.

Stelle told the conference the Soviet Union was given advance notice of the detailed proposal in the hope of obtaining some Russian response.

"Thus far there has been no reply," he said.

The test ban talks are deadlocked by the Soviet refusal to discuss any inspection procedures until the West accepts the Soviet offer of an annual maximum of three on-site inspections.

Stelle said the American suggestions were worked out on the assumption that there would be seven inspections a year on the territory of each of the nuclear powers.

'Brothers of the Brush'

More than 100 unshaven men took part in a session of Beacon's Golden Jubilee "Brothers of the Brush" activity planned in connection with the city's 50-year anniversary celebration June 1-8. Beacon police and firemen have received authorization to take part in the beard growing activity to grow "face hair reminiscent of the early days of the city's incorporation."

Rhinebeck Votes Thursday

Polls will be open from 2 to 9 p. m. Thursday at Rhinebeck Central School when voters will ballot on a proposition calling for approximately $30,000 to acquire a 16-acre tract for a new 24-room elementary school.

Club Operator Is Indicted in Fatal Hudson Shooting

A downtown Hudson "social club" operator has been indicted by a Columbia County grand jury on a charge of second degree murder stemming from a fatal shooting last Jan. 15.

The indictment naming Jesse Durham, of Columbia Street, Hudson, defendant was handed up to County Judge William S. Christiana. Durham is accused of the fatal shooting of Jesse Ferguson, of Albany, which occurred in a "social club" operated by the defendant.

At the time of his arrest by Hudson police, Durham reportedly told authorities he was afraid Ferguson was going to shoot him.

Sealed Note for Nik

ROME (AP)—Soviet editor Alexei Adzhubei and his wife start home today with a sealed envelope from Pope John XXIII for Premier Khrushchev.

Adzhubei, Khrushchev's son-in-law, told the weekly magazine Tempo he "received from the hands of the Pope a packet closed with many seals."

Adzhubei, editor of the Soviet government paper Izvestia, and Khrushchev's daughter had a private audience with the Pope Thursday.

Handyman Denies Killing Woman, Was Boston's 9th

BELMONT, Mass. (AP)—A Negro handyman arrested in the nylon stocking strangling of a Belmont housewife, steadfastly maintained his innocence today under questioning by police.

Police said the Negro, Roy Smith, 35, insisted he left the slain woman's fashionable home at 14 Scott Road "sometime before 4 o'clock."

The slender Negro was the first person arrested and booked in connection with nine strangulation murders of women in Greater Boston since June.

Arrested Tuesday in Cambridge, he was charged with suspicion of murder in the death of Bessie Goldberg, 62, whose body was found on the living room floor of her 10-room home.

A nylon stocking had been stripped from her left leg and knotted around her neck. Police Chief Donald S. Robinson said an attempt had been made to rape her.

Police said Smith, arrested when two Cambridge patrolmen and a detective recognized him as he looked out the window of a third-floor apartment, was in jail for minor offenses when six of the stranglings occurred. His terms covered the period from April to October, 1962.

Mrs. Goldberg's husband, Israel, a realtor, discovered her body when he returned home about 4 p.m.

Goldberg told police his wife had sent for a man through the Massachusetts Department of Employment Security to help prepare their home for a party that night.

Fruit, honey, milk, grains and saps of various plants have all been used at one time in the production of alcoholic beverages.

Gotham Man Is Returned to City, Accused of Theft

Accused of taking $350 from the office of the Twin Lakes Mountain House, Lucas Avenue Extension, last Sept. 26 Ernest Mottenklott, 29, of 183 133rd Street, New York City, was arrested Tuesday by Manhattan State Police.

Kingston troopers reported Mottenklott was returned to Ulster County in custody of State Police Investigators Joseph Ventriglia and Joseph Franke late yesterday. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Robert Ferrigan, Town of Kingston, on a second degree grand larceny charge the defendant waived preliminary examination and was committed to the Ulster County jail pending grand jury action.

Investigator Ventriglia said Mottenklott was employed as a cook by Mrs. Walter Kostronitin, owner of the Twin Lakes Mountain House at the time of the alleged theft.
